Politicians Watch For 'Groundswell'

Philadelphia (AP) — Pennsylvanians vote today in a shadow primary in which politicians will be searching avidly for signs of a groundswell favoring any Republican or Democratic presidential candidate.

Voters will pick 60 national convention delegates for each party. But they probably will know little, if anything, about the presidential preference of more than a handful of those they choose.

With scattered showers forecast, only about 1,000,000 Republican and 600,000 Democratic voters are likely, about 30 per cent of registrations.

Voters can express themselves directly in a general (popularity) contest. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and former Minnesota Gov. Harold E. Stassen are the only GOP ballot entries—with a possibly strong write-in for Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

But here again the poll results may have little to do with the final disposition of the state's 70 Republican presidential nominating delegates. They apparently will be held in reserve in an effort by the party's state leadership to plunk a majority of them down on the bandwagon of the prospective winner at the Chicago convention.

The Democratic popularity poll might be more influential if a strong write-in develops for any one candidate.

There are no names on the party presidential ballot, but there are indications that Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, W. Averell Harriman, the mutual security director, may figure strongly in the totals. There probably will be, also, substantial vote totals for President Truman, and Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, who say they aren't running.

Unless plans are changed, however, the State's Democratic delegation will go officially uncommitted to Chicago. Ten votes already picked at large, are not tied to any candidate.

Gov. John S. Fine, credited with being able to influence the votes of about 40 of the State's 70 Republican delegates, has said he will study the returns for any indication of a groundswell for any candidate. Of 10 GOP at-large delegates already chosen, five follow Fine, three lean to Taft and two favor Eisenhower.

Eisenhower backers have campaigned the State to roll up an impressive total for the general. Taft asked his supporters not to write in his name, saying that the results in the popularity test would mean nothing.

This brought a charge from Edwin F. Russell, State chairman of Citizens for Eisenhower, that Taft's men are "setting the stage for another phony moral victory claim."

"The statement of Senator Taft's eastern campaign manager that no campaign is being conducted in Pennsylvania, and the tongue-in-cheek request for no write-in votes, are part of a very transparent maneuver to make the most of whatever votes are cast for Taft," Russell declared.

Denying this vigorously, John D. M. Hamilton, Taft's eastern manager, offered to contribute $5,000 to "any charity they pick" if the Eisenhower people could prove any organization campaign had been carried on here for Taft.

Hamilton told this reporter he doesn't believe the primary results here "will mean anything." He predicted Taft will have a "minimum" of 25 of the State's delegates at convention time, adding that "we'll have a big majority if Governor Fine goes with us."

A new development that might influence the Pittsburgh races was the endorsement by the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette of Eisenhower's candidacy. The city's only morning newspaper said Eisenhower is "the man best qualified to guide the nation through a turbulent international situation."

In suburban Montgomery County here, Leonard C. Bill Jr., an open Eisenhower supporter, is trying to wrest one of two delegate places away from Joseph N. Pew Jr., and Russell E. Crawford, both officially uncommitted, and slated by the county GOP organization. Both reported favoring Taft.

Voters Invited To Ride Free To Polls Today

A free ride to the polls is offered every registered voter in Stroudsburg, East Stroudsburg and Stroud Township today by the Kiwanis Club.

Joining the "Ballot Battalion" of the national organization, local members will have a battery of cars in operation from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. Polls, however, will be open from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m.

A call to the Penn-Stroud Hotel—380, extension 500—will bring immediate response from one of the Kiwanis drivers.

Results of the Presidential Primary will be displayed in bulletin form, on both local and state-wide results by The Daily Record on bulletin boards in front of the office at 18 N. Seventh St., Stroudsburg, as fast as returns are received tonight.

Special attention will be given to presidential write-ins of both parties.

Atomic Blast Slated For 12:30 Today

Atom Bomb Site, Nev., (AP)—An atomic bomb, one of the two most powerful ever to be detonated within the United States, will burst today at a record altitude of 3,000 to 3,500 feet above a battlefield where soldiers and weapons are deployed.

Officials directing the test, set for the hour after 9:30 a. m. (12:30, Eastern Standard Time) gave these details yesterday:

The explosion will be televised nationally. Prospects seemed good yesterday for clear weather.

Dr. Alvin C. Graves, test director, explained that the high altitude of the burst—farther up than any American test held anywhere—is to "avoid dust, contamination and fall-out."

(Fall-out means the dropping of contaminated particles of rain from clouds as they move out from the scene of the burst to drift scores or hundreds of miles downwind.)

Dust from the blast also could be contaminated, creating an extra hazard for troops huddled in their foxholes.

Observers at the scene will be about 10 miles from the burst, Gordon Dean, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, told a session of official observers and reporters.

He did not pin-point the distance at which troops, the first to be brought within the lethal range of atomic detonation, would be located in their foxholes and fortifications.

However, there seemed a possibility it might be at half or less than half of the 10-mile range for the observers.

Stolen Liquor Truck Abandoned

Cleveland (AP)—Thieves who police said obviously "just wanted to have a party" stole a truck containing 10,980 bottles of whiskey yesterday.

But after drinking just six bottles, the culprits apparently became discouraged at the limitless supply. Police found the truck and other bottles abandoned a few miles away.

The whiskey, valued at $32,940, was taken from in front of a cartage company.

To Suspend Controls

Washington (AP)—The government today will suspend price controls on 16 commodities, including some fats and oils, hides, raw wool and burlap.

Rains Add To Woes In Flood Area

Kansas City (AP)—Missouri Valley dike crews strained to hold their own yesterday in a battle of flood and mud.

Rain softened the dikes where men and truck skidded in the mud. More showers were forecast. But the army of flood fighters seemed to be winning at several critical places.

In the danger area below St. Joseph, Mo., forecasters said last night's rain might average an inch. That would send the river above the predicted crest of 29 feet at Kansas City to 31 feet or more—still well below the level the dikes were built to withstand. More showers are forecast for Wednesday in the same area.

A sod-busting rain can come anytime in the midlands under such April conditions.

While the record upriver flood spread over the lowlands, levees still held at the $3,500,000 Sherman Air Force Base at old Fort Leavenworth. Army engineers thought they could save it.

Farther upstream at St. Joseph, Rosecrans Field was deep under 14 feet of water.

The Army district engineer at Kansas City estimated that more than 9,000 persons were homeless between Rulo, Neb., and Kansas City, and another 3,000 displaced persons below Kansas City.

Col. L. J. Lincoln said 386,000 acres of land were under water between Rulo and the mouth of the river. The sheriff's office estimated 55,000 acres were under water in Atchison County, which is north of Rulo.

More than 3,700 soldiers and 2,200 civilians were battling the surging waters between here and St. Joseph. The 31st Engineer Combat Battalion from Camp McCoy, Wis., is being held as a reserve.

Throughout the day the waters were held steady near Craig, Mo., which has been fighting for more than a week to keep the town of 800 dry.

In Missouri, Gov. Forrest Smith proclaimed a flood emergency and asked President Truman for an allotment of Federal relief funds. Smith requested no specific amount because, he said, it is not known yet how great the damage may be.

It was tough and go at all the critical spots in the slippery mud caused by half-inch rains.

Farther north, the Mississippi crest had passed La Crosse, Wis., but protective levees remained in danger. Overcast skies threatened more rain after a fall of .06 inch earlier.

Chinese Cavalry On Central Front

Seoul, Korea, Tuesday (AP)—The appearance of whitecloaked Chinese cavalry on Korea's central front has U. S. Eighth Army officers puzzled.

A group of 200 was spotted moving toward Kumsong yesterday afternoon. Heavy Allied artillery ripped the column to pieces.

Another group of 50 was spotted five minutes later in the same sector, and a third column of 60 was seen about dusk.

"We can't attach any significance to the report at this time," an Eighth Army staff officer said. "Intelligence officers are studying the details. All we have now are fragmentary reports."

Giant Storm Front

Oklahoma City, (AP)—A giant storm front extending from Southern Kansas to Northern Texas centered over Oklahoma last night, shooting out tornado fingers in at least seven places and bringing heavy rains and hail.

Senate Refuses To Vote Funds For Steel Seizure

Washington (AP)—The Senate, rejecting a last-minute appeal by President Truman, voted 44 to 31 yesterday to ban the use of any money in a 960 million dollar appropriations bill to carry out Truman's seizure of the steel industry.

Two Fliers Cleared By Air Chief

San Antonio, Tex. (AP)—Charges against two reserve fliers for refusing to fly were dismissed yesterday after a visit here by Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, Air Force chief of staff.

However, the general said afterwards that the Air Force had no idea of softening its attitude toward balky pilots.

Maj. Gen. J. K. Lacey, who ordered the charges dropped, said the two officers would be separated from the service. The men were 1st Lt. James G. Bristol, 35, pilot, Harlan, Iowa, and 1st Lt. Edwin L. Cox, 35, bombardier, St. Louis, Mo.

The commanding general of crew training Air Force said investigations were continuing in the case of four other Randolph reservists under similar charges.

East St. Louis, Ill. (AP)—Discovery of a scheme through which four Reserve Air Force officers paid bribes to escape active duty, apparently through alteration of military medical records, was reported yesterday by U. S. Attorney William Hart.

At least seven others were solicited for bribes but denied making payments, Hart said. He added the bribes were solicited by "at least one service man" at nearby Scott Air Force Base, headquarters of the Air Training Command.

Allies Have Never Plotted Attack On Reds

New York (AP)—Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther pledged yesterday that the free Allies in Europe have never been discussed, let alone planned, an attack on the Communist world.

And he said Soviet Russia knows that, despite its fear propaganda to the contrary.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's chief of staff at Supreme Headquarters Allied Forces in Europe (SHAPE) was cautiously but definitely optimistic in a speech at the annual Associated Press Luncheon.

Gruenther said there are those who believe Russia will attack the West this year.

"I am not one of them," he added.

"There are other discordant voices who say that war with the Soviet Union is inevitable and it is only a question of when that war will take place."

"With that doctrine of despair I am in complete disagreement. It is my firm conviction that we have within our power the prevention of war."

He admitted that in Europe the Western Allies still lack "the necessary forces to stop a determined Soviet attack."

"However," Gruenther added, "our capabilities for defense are much greater than they were a year ago and if the decisions taken at Lisbon are carried out we will have an increased posture for defense a year from this time."

Andrews Appointed

Washington (AP)—Stanley Andrews, 56, editor and government administrator, was nominated yesterday to head the Point Four program as technical cooperation administrator.

Reds Shell Ships Ten Miles At Sea

Except as a gesture of disapproval, the vote probably will have no practical effect. None of the money in the bill was specifically requested for or needed for the steel seizure.

Nevertheless, it marked something of a victory for Republican critics who have been denouncing Truman as a "dictator" and "usurper" ever since the President ordered seizure of the strike-threatened industry on April 8.

Thirty-three Republicans and 11 Democrats voted for the fund-freezing amendment, sponsored by Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.). Only two Republicans—Morse of Oregon and Langer of North Dakota—joined 29 Democrats opposing it.

Senator Knowland (R-Calif.) told newsmen he will move for action today on a potentially far more drastic amendment, designed to forbid the use of any money—appropriated by Congress in the current fiscal year—to handle the seizure.

Knowland's amendment faced tougher going, however, since it would require a two-thirds vote to put it over. Yesterday's vote was considerably less than two-thirds.

Chairman Maybank (D-SC) told newsmen any extension of the economic controls act which his Senate Banking Committee approves will bar industry seizure. Present law expires June 30.

Sponsors of the Ferguson Amendment made no claim that it would knock out the seizure.

Senator Bridges (R-NH), the GOP floor leader, called it a "vehicle" to show Senate disapproval of Truman's action in taking over the mills by executive order.

Ferguson said two items in the money bill, providing funds to run numerous government departments until June 30, might be used in connection with the steel seizure. He listed them as $100,000 for salaries and expenses in the office of Secretary of Commerce Sawyer, nominal boss of the seized mills, and 2½ million dollars for salaries and expenses in the department's defense production activities.

Several hours before the Senate vote, the President denounced the GOP-led drive to choke off government funds and challenged Congress to write its own "affirmative" solution of the steel crisis.

"As long as I have anything to do with it, there will be no price increase beyond what the steel industry could get under the Capehart amendment, which is approximately $3 a ton," said Price Boss Ellis Arnall.

"Insofar as I know," Arnall continued, "there is no plan to give the industry an increase above the $3."

Tear Gas Used Against Rebels

Rahway, N.J. (AP)—A prison official admitted that a "slight amount" of tear gas was used last night on 231 rebel convicts who have barricaded themselves in a dormitory of the Rahway State Prison Farm since Thursday night.

The rebellious prisoners had unfurled a bed sheet sign early in the evening announcing "We're being gassed." Even officers.

By "officers" they referred to eight guards, who are being held as hostages by the rioting prisoners.

Prison Superintendent E. William Lagay at first denied the convicts' gas charge and said only that use of tear gas had been threatened when a disturbance broke out in the dormitory about 6 p.m. and spread to the south wing of the prison farm, which has not been involved in the four-day-old rebellion.

Murphy Takes Oath

Washington (AP)—Robert D. Murphy was sworn in yesterday as first postwar ambassador to Japan, and Secretary of State Acheson told Murphy it will be up to him to open up "a whole new era in relations" with America's former enemy.

Sir Stafford Cripps

Cripps Dies; Was Britain's 'Mr. Austerity'

Zurich, Switzerland (AP)—Sir Stafford Cripps, a longtime Socialist statesman and frail but powerful "Mr. Austerity" of Britain's Laborite post-war campaign for economic recovery, died last night.

The end came in his 63rd year, in a Zurich clinic, after years of physical suffering and many months of acute illness.

The wealthy lawyer, who had fought most of his life against bad health and for social reform, died at 11 p.m. (5 p.m. EST) at the Living Strength Clinic.

With him was Lady Cripps, whose devotion and care of her husband were his principal strength in recent months. In three days he would have been 63.

The gaunt six-footer had lain in a hospital bed here for four months under treatment for a spinal infection called spondylitis. The infection was discovered late in 1950 when he came to Zurich for treatment for an intestinal complaint.

Poor health had caused him to resign as Britain's chancellor of the exchequer in October, 1950, while the Labor party which he had served energetically for many years was still in power.

Nine Escaped G. I. Prisoners Are Recaptured

Monroe, N. Y. (AP)—After a night of hiding in the woods, nine escaped prisoners from the Sampson Air Force Base stockade were captured yesterday on their way south in a stolen car.

Their desire to stick together led to their being caught. State police stopped the car when they saw it was overcrowded—all nine soldiers piled into the one vehicle.

The nine were among 11 Air Force prisoners who broke out of the stockade Sunday night by sawing through iron bars and climbing over a 10-foot-high barbed wire wall.

The two others were picked up shortly after midnight in Geneva, N. Y.

The 11, all privates and under 21 years of age, had been confined for being away without leave.

Rail Rolls Off Cart, Kills Man

Bethlehem (AP)—A 58-year-old Reading Railroad worker, Edwin Beahn Sr., of Bethlehem, was killed yesterday by a 90-foot section of rail that rolled off a towing cart at nearby Blingen.

Another worker, William Sterner, of Allentown, suffered a fractured skull. The railroad crew was bringing up the rail to replace a section of the track when the accident happened.

Concern Felt For Safety Of Hostages

Jackson, Mich. (AP)—One convict was killed and at least nine others wounded yesterday as grim state police and guards quelled a part of the rioting in Southern Michigan Prison.

But the death of the prisoner—victim of a bullet fired by a law officer—heightened the tension. Authorities said it increased the danger of the guards held hostage in the disciplinary cell block that was the center of the mutiny.

Some of Michigan's most hardened criminals were inside the block. And they asserted earlier in the day that the hostages would be put to death if any prisoner was harmed.

The convicts have radios inside the steel-door cell block 16, the disciplinary block.

Officials feared reprisals from the rioters after it became known Darwin Millage, a 35-year-old convict from Detroit, had died in the prison hospital of a chest wound.

Prison officials were reluctant to confirm first reports of the convict's death. After it became known, State Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard requested Michigan radio stations to withhold mention of the fatality until hostages were released.

Newsmen and photographers with credentials were permitted access to the inside of the prison. They were allowed to move around and take any risks they were willing to take.

Apparently Millage was wounded during the morning when a prison fire truck was brought through the cell yard to fight flames set by the rioting convicts in one of the administration buildings. State police manned the truck. Some of them were armed.

Millage, serving a 15 to 25 year term on a statutory rape charge, was one of the 200 prisoners running loose in the cell-yard when the truck came through.

Later, when about 500 convicts were milling about the yard, armed state police moved in and cleared it. Other inmates were hurt then.

The officers drove the convicts back to the cell blocks, pointing sub-machine guns and throwing tear gas bombs at times. Several shots were fired over the heads of the rioters after prisoners showered the policemen with knives, clubs and other objects.

Then an unidentified guard fired into the crowd. Some suffered gunshot wounds, and others were cut by flying glass or debris.

One state trooper was knocked out with a baseball bat thrown by a prisoner. He got up moments later and stayed on duty.

At one time the detention cell convicts held 11 guards as hostages. During the afternoon they released H. W. Curry because he was ill and 69-year-old Charles Good-year because of his age.

By late in the day, authorities were putting their unofficial damage estimates as high as $2,000,000. About $500,000 was fire damage and the rest represented wrecked installations. The prison laundry burned to the ground, and the greenhouse was badly damaged.

The general service building, housing the chapel, a store and other departments, was the scene of several fires.

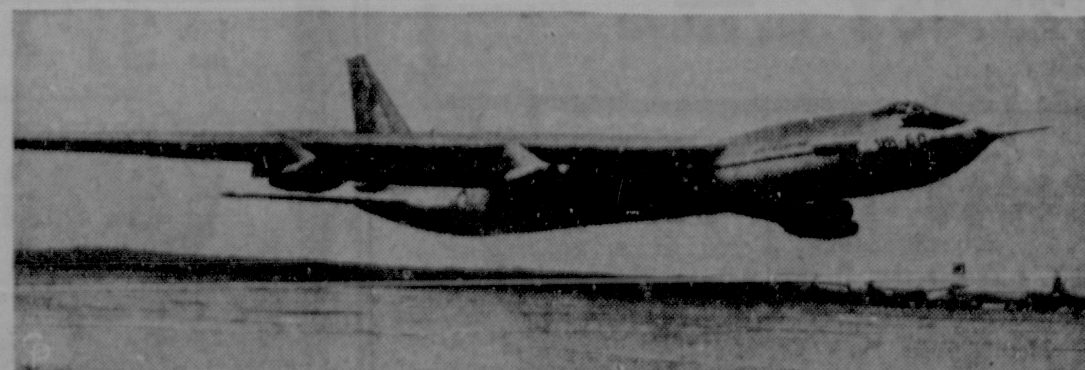

Firing a fusillade and wounding one convict in the arms and legs, state troopers and guards finally cleared the mental cell block—Nos. 11 and 12—shortly before 7 p. m.

This cleared the yard and corridors outside "powdering" No. 15. State police and guards moved quickly to secure the prison. Four squads of eight troopers each were put to patrolling corridors and 125 guards immediately took up posts at vantage points. Two squads of troopers stood by as reserves.

The convict struck in the arms and legs with shotgun pellets as the fusillade was fired at the outside of the mental cell blocks to drive convicts back to their cells was Arthur Smith, 25. He is serving 5 to 15 years for breaking and entering from Detroit.

In the melee, State Police Commissioner Leonard was hit on the head and required first aid treatment for a nick in the scalp. The commissioner said he thought he was struck by flying glass or chips off bricks.

An inch of water was standing in Nos. 11 and 12 when convicts finally were driven to cells.

THE YB-60, the U.S. Air Force's new all-jet version of the B-36 bomber, takes off on its maiden flight from Carswell Base, Fort Worth, Texas. Details of the flight and the performance of the eight-engined craft which was in the air for one hour and seven minutes, are top secret.

FORD WINS AGAIN!

TAKES FIRST PLACE IN CLASS "A"

IN THE 1952

Mobilgas Economy Run

Ford's the Class "A" Winner for 3rd Consecutive Year!

New Ford Mileage Maker SIX Thriftiest in its Field!

Again this year... as in the past two years... Ford was first in gas economy over all other cars in its price class in the Mobilgas Economy Run. In this toughest-of-all economy test for American stock model cars, a Ford SIX equipped with Overdrive (optional at extra cost) averaged 53.855 ton-miles per gallon and 25.463 actual miles per gallon.

This was a very special triumph for Ford's All-New Mileage Maker high-compression SIX. For now, with its new design providing 101-horsepower and free-turning overhead valves, Ford is definitely pound-for-pound the most economical low-priced car to run! Yes... Ford's thrift was clearly proved by the 1,415-mile grind from Los Angeles to Sun Valley... a course that included dense city traffic, below-sea-level desert heat reaching over 100 degrees, and rugged mountain passes up to 8,000 feet with below zero temperatures. And a very important factor contributing to this victory is Ford's Automatic Power Pilot which squeezes the least ounce of power out of every drop of gas.

*The AAA Contest Board determines the winner by a "ton-miles per gallon" formula to insure equal chance for all cars in each class regardless of size and weight. Ton miles per gallon equals the car weight (including passengers) in tons, multiplied by number of miles travelled, divided by number of gallons consumed.

Forest Fire Only Partly Checked After Covering Wide Area

Wind Whips Fire Toward Tannersville

Set by an incendiary Sunday night, the forest fire in the Big Pocono area was still raging only partially checked through the brush late last night.

So far the blaze has covered an area estimated by the district forester's office as four miles long by two miles wide.

Crews directed by District Forester E. C. Pyle have been battling the fire since 6 p. m. Sunday.

At that time it was discovered that some one had set 15 separate fires on a line from Little Summit to Deep Lake, in about an hour's time.

The separate fires merged into one big one in a short time. The forester's office last night said some 50 volunteers had been aiding wardens and forestry crews, and more help is being called in.

During the day the brisk wind urged the fire on in a southeasterly direction, toward Tannersville. Motorists looking westward from Route 611 could see the crimson glow reflected from the underside of the smoke pall hanging along the south slope of Big Pocono.

It was estimated by a forester that some 1,500 acres have been burned off.

Harold Hamlen, operator of East Stroudsburg airport, swung over the area a number of times to aid firefighters in spotting the fire's "heaters," and direct their activities.

Pilot Jack Davis of Mount Pocono airport also went aloft with a reporter in his plane to check the extent of the fire.

From 1,000 feet up the plateau spread out like a dark, suede-covered table. Puddles of spilled water marked the chain of lakes from Mount Pocono to Blakeslee Corners.

The fire line ran like an insane crimson string in irregular curves and broken arcs below. Visible on the dirt road along the rounded spine of Big Pocono were a half-dozen forestry trucks, jeeps and cars of volunteers.

They were parked on the windward side of the fire, with the flames moving away from them. West of the blackened, burnt-out area were two small smoke spots where fresh blazes appeared to be starting.

Foresters said these were not new fires, however, but "islands" left behind by the main blaze.

Most of the volunteers and forestry crews were invisible in the dense brush from 400 feet up. The heavy undergrowth had proved impassable for vehicles. Equipment had to be lugged by hand.

The dozen separate smoke columns merged at 500 feet into a heavy yellow cloud which overhung the entire area.

Some 15 miles west of the Big Pocono area was another immense yellow cloud lying horizontally along the horizon.

It was the result of the two-day-old forest fire burning west of Blakeslee Corners, which has already consumed an estimated area five miles wide by 13 miles long. In the Big Pocono blaze, the progress of the fire slowed after the wind died down at dark.

The affected section is regarded as "unprotected land." No known cabins or summer bungalows are located there. The fire's spread, however, threatened to engulf other sections and was still moving toward Tannersville.

Today's developments hinge on the weather. High wind could drive the flames with heightened ferocity. Rain, or a windless day would probably knock the fire out or give firefighters enough of a start to beat the blaze.

It was not expected that Tannersville was under any real threat because of the number of roads between the village and the line of the fire. Foresters, however, said that fires were unpredictable until the last ember was extinguished.

Fire Burns Mattress At Kohl House

A burning mattress summoned Stroudsburg firemen at 2:25 a. m. yesterday to the house at the rear of the Colonial Diner on Main St. and resulted in minor damage, mostly caused by water.

Originating on the top floor of the three-story structure, Fire Chief Robert Melick said the fire probably was started by a lighted cigarette. Firemen threw the burning mattress to the courtyard below where the fire was extinguished.

Carl D. Kohl, owner of the building, said he could not estimate the damage at present. The room was occupied by an employee, Kohl said.

State Control Of Jobless Grants Urged

FORD WINS AGAIN!

TAKES FIRST PLACE IN CLASS "A"

IN THE 1952

Mobilgas Economy Run

New Ford Mileage Maker SIX Thriftiest in its Field!

Again this year... as in the past two years... Ford was first in gas economy over all other cars in its price class in the Mobilgas Economy Run. In this toughest-of-all economy test for American stock model cars, a Ford SIX equipped with Overdrive (optional at extra cost) averaged 53.855 ton-miles per gallon and 25.463 actual miles per gallon.

This was a very special triumph for Ford's All-New Mileage Maker high-compression SIX. For now, with its new design providing 101-horsepower and free-turning overhead valves, Ford is definitely pound-for-pound the most economical low-priced car to run! Yes... Ford's thrift was clearly proved by the 1,415-mile grind from Los Angeles to San Valley... a course that included dense city traffic, below-sea-level desert heat reaching over 100 degrees, and rugged mountain passes up to 8,000 feet with below zero temperatures. And a very important factor contributing to this victory is Ford's Automatic Power Pilot which squeezes the last ounce of power out of every drop of gas.

*The AAA Contest Board determines the winner by a "ton-miles per gallon" formula to insure equal chance for all cars in each class regardless of size and weight. Ton-miles per gallon equals the car weight (including passengers) in tons, multiplied by number of miles travelled, divided by number of gallons consumed.

Forest Fire Only Partly Checked After Covering Wide Area

Wind Whips Fire Toward Tannersville

Set by an incendiary Sunday night, the forest fire in the Big Pocono area was still raging only partially checked through the brush late last night.

So far the blaze has covered an area estimated by the district forester's office as four miles long by two miles wide.

Crews directed by District Forester E. C. Pyle have been battling the fire since 6 p. m. Sunday.

At that time it was discovered that some one had set 15 separate fires on a line from Little Summit to Deep Lake, in about an hour's time.

The separate fires merged into one big one in a short time. The forester's office last night said some 50 volunteers had been aiding wardens and forestry crews, and more help is being called in.

During the day the brisk wind urged the fire on in a southeasterly direction, toward Tannersville. Motorists looking westward from Route 611 could see the crimson glow reflected from the underside of the smoke pall hanging along the south slope of Big Pocono.

It was estimated by a forester that some 1,500 acres have been burned off.

Harold Hamlen, operator of East Stroudsburg airport, swung over the area a number of times to aid firefighters in spotting the fire's "headers," and direct their activities.

Pilot Jack Davis of Mount Pocono airport also went aloft with a reporter in his plane to check the extent of the fire.

From 1,000 feet up the plateau spread out like a dark, soiled-covered table. Puddles of spilled water marked the chain of lakes from Mount Pocono to Blakeslee Corners.

The fire line ran like an insane crimson string in irregular curves and broken arcs below. Visible on the dirt road along the rounded spine of Big Pocono were a half-dozen forestry trucks, jeeps and cars of volunteers.

They were parked on the windward side of the fire, with the flames moving away from them. West of the blackened, burnt-out area were two small smoky spots where fresh blazes appeared to be starting.

Foresters said these were not new fires, however, but "islands" left behind by the main blaze.

Most of the volunteers and forestry crews were invisible in the dense brush from 400 feet up. The heavy undergrowth had proved impassable for vehicles. Equipment had to be lugged by hand.

The dozen separate smoke columns merged at 500 feet into a heavy yellow cloud which overhung the entire area.

Some 15 miles west of the Big Pocono area was another immense yellow cloud lying horizontally along the horizon.

It was the result of the two-day-old forest fire burning west of Blakeslee Corners, which has already consumed an estimated area five miles wide by 13 miles long.

In the Big Pocono blaze, the progress of the fire slowed after the wind died down at dark.

The affected section is regarded as "unprotected land." No known cabins or summer bungalows are located there. The fire's spread, however, threatened to engulf other sections and was still moving toward Tannersville.

Today's developments hinge on the weather. High wind could drive the flames with heightened ferocity. Rain, or a windless day would probably knock the fire out or give firefighters enough of a start to beat the blaze.

It was not expected that Tannersville was under any real threat because of the number of roads between the village and the line of the fire. Foresters, however, said that fires were unpredictable until the last ember was extinguished.

Fire Burns Mattress At Kohl House

A burning mattress summoned Stroudsburg firemen at 2:25 a. m. yesterday to the house at the rear of the Colonial Diner on Main St. and resulted in minor damage, mostly caused by water.

Originating on the top floor of the three-story structure, Fire Chief Robert Melick said the fire "probably was started by a lighted cigarette." Firemen threw the burning mattress to the courtyard below where the fire was extinguished.

Carl D. Kohl, owner of the building, said he could not estimate the damage at present. The room was occupied by an employee, Kohl said.

State Control Of Jobless Grants Urged

Retention of state operation of the unemployment compensation system was favored and opposition to proposed federal usurpation of it by grants-in-aid was expressed by the Pocono Mountain Chamber of Commerce upon recommendation of the National Affairs Committee. The action took place yesterday at the April meeting of the Board of Directors in the Penn-Stroud at a luncheon session with 29 directors present, the second record attendance of the new year.

Opposition to a closed shop through recommendation of the Wage Stabilization Board and specifically against present action of that board in the steel dispute was voted unanimously.

Foreign aid for the present year should be held to $5 billion from the present balance and no new appropriations should be made, in the opinion of local chamber directors.

The Federal budget for the new fiscal year should be cut by $14.4 billion to $71 billion, another resolution declared.

These issues were studied by the National Affairs Committee under Dr. Joseph Noonan and the board approved in each case the findings.

Appointment of a special Traffic Study Committee under the chairmanship of Lester Abeloff was authorized by the board upon recommendation of the Executive Committee. This group would look into the need for elimination of left turns and creation of additional one-way streets to get maximum use out of present streets in moving the traffic volume imposed upon the local area.

Other reports included fish and game studies on improved fishing through the opening of Snow Hill and McMichaels sections. The Highway Committee reported early resurfacing of Foxtown Hill, with bids to be opened May 16 and work to start in June.

When Ike Comes Home

Editors of the nation's daily newspapers, meeting in Washington, reported that General Eisenhower is the presidential candidate most likely to win in November.

If—of course—he gets the Republican nomination.

What the editors are saying is that, in their judgment, General Eisenhower, as a man, is the favorite of most American voters.

But that popularity must be translated into delegates at the Republican convention. General Eisenhower, quite obviously, will be up against a smooth-working, experienced political machine at the convention.

That obstacle can be overcome only by unmistakable evidence of the public sentiment behind him—evidence that cannot be denied.

The general's best hope of crystallizing that public sentiment is to speak out—when he comes home in June—on the basic issues facing the country.

Public admiration for his ability and integrity is apparent. His personal appearance as an active candidate, can do more than any other effort to convert that admiration into Eisenhower delegates at the July convention.

Roses And Relief

The State Department of Public Assistance has reported that only 86 out of every 1000 Pennsylvanians over 65 years of age are on relief.

The word "only" is used because, in the vast majority of states, the proportion is much higher. Several southern states have roughly half their over-65 population on the dole. Just six states—New York, Virginia, Pennsylvania,

Maryland, Delaware and New Jersey—have less than 100.

Those statistics seem to indicate that oldsters are better off in industrial states. Two reasons suggest themselves: There are more jobs that the elderly can perform, and high earnings let workers save something toward retirement.

Moonlight and roses and whispering palms have their attractions, but the statistics are somewhat discouraging. In Louisiana, 674 out of every 1000 persons over 65 are on relief. In California the number is 307, and in Florida 289.

Political Third-Degree

Down in Florida, a young candidate for governor has been putting on radio "talkathons." In Tampa he was on the air for 25½ hours, answering questions 'phoned in by listeners.

He estimates that he answered 5000 questions about his personal life, political views and ideas on important issues. Observers said he answered all questions frankly, without quibbling.

It might be beneficial if other candidates for public office, not quite so frank, could be induced to put on such an act. When weariness overtook them, they might not have the energy to give involved and meaningless answers.

Looking At Life —by Erich Brandeis

We just had a practical demonstration of "progressive education" at our house. Result: One broken lamp. One busted china cigarette box (one of our choice pieces). Milk spilled all over our best rug. An exhausted mother. A hostess with frazzled nerves.

I am no authority on progressive education. Everybody I ask has a different definition of it.

The closest I can come to it is that it is a system whereby children are permitted to "express themselves" from their earliest infancy, and are permitted to do whatever their talents and inclinations tell them to do.

The above mentioned demonstration was just one of the many examples I have seen recently. It differed from the others only in the extent of its messiness, and it probably impressed me more because the damage was done in my own home.

For every engineering man hour spent on a typical World War II plane in the United States there are 100 engineering man-hours spent on a typical guided missile.

When I was a kid there was no such thing as baby sitters. Parents did not entrust their youngsters to perfect strangers while they went off gallivanting. In those days the mother was her child's friend but she was also the Boss. The kids knew that they couldn't put anything over on the mother. If they did, there was always father to reckon with. Today the CHILD is the boss.

I don't say that the good old days were so much better than these new days. But it seems to me that in those days they raised a breed of people that had a keener sense of right and wrong than what they have today.

I think one of the great troubles of today is that everybody wants to eat his cake and have it, too.

His desire was to denounce his opponent, Ted Kirkpatrick of "Counterattack" and "Red Channels," which is anyone's privilege. Instead Crosby walloped the FBI, to which service Kirkpatrick once belonged. Crosby has since apologized for so heated and careless a remark as this:

"Everybody was in the FBI during the war. It was a way of getting out of the army. We have copy boys on our paper who were in the FBI during the war."

On September 6, 1939, to the FBI's duties in the criminal field was added the responsibility of guarding the internal security of the nation. This required a rapid build-up of its forces, which could not be done with a lowering of qualifications, as that would defeat itself.

No man could serve in the FBI who had not been especially trained. Once appointed, the new agents were sent to the FBI Academy, located on the Marine base at Quantico, Virginia. Here they were given an intensive course of instructions. Classes were from nine in the morning until nine at night. Already qualified as lawyers or accountants, or college graduates with specialized skills, they were trained as expert investigators and they qualified as experts in firearms—the Thompson sub-machine gun, the rifle, the shotgun and the pistol. A daily class in athletic training kept them in trim.

When war came, these men were engaged in tasks which were an essential part of any war, namely, guarding against espionage, sabotage, subversion. They were deferred from the armed services because they were actually doing war work. General Lewis B. Hershey, Director of the selective service system, issued this memorandum on the subject:

"The Federal Bureau of Investigation is charged with the responsibility of investigating all violations of Federal statutes, and has further been charged with responsibility in matters pertaining to the national defense, including espionage, sabotage, and subversion. As a part of its duty the bureau receives and maintains extensive fingerprint records. In the present national emergency the duties of the Federal Bureau of Investigation will become more extensive and will assume an increasing importance. It is considered essential to the national health, safety, and interest, and to the national defense that the functions of the Federal Bureau of Investigation should not be impaired by the removal of trained personnel from critical positions with the bureau."

Even to intimate that these men were draft-dodgers, slackers, or anything of the sort, is stupid nonsense and represents the kind of wild thinking so characteristic of all ad hominem arguments. In fact, FBI men were regarded as so important in their work that they were required to give up any reserve commissions they held. In March, 1942, the Secretary of War issued this order:

"In view of the fact that your civilian employment in the Federal Bureau of Investigation, United States Department of Justice, is of such a vital nature to the national defense as to necessitate your remaining at your post of duty, despite the fact that you hold a reserve commission in the United States Army, I request that you submit, through proper channels, your resignation from your commission."

"I am making this request because of my knowledge that the services being rendered by you to your government in your present employment are of great value to the war effort. The personal risks, the hazards and the sacrifices which you are called upon to make in your daily services in the Federal Bureau of Investigation are in no manner or degree inferior to those you might be called upon to make in the armed services."

A similar order was issued by the Navy.

John Crosby may not like Ted Kirkpatrick because of "Counterattack" and "Red Channels," but to attack the FBI's war record, in the year 1952, is a dangerous support of men and women whom no American should regard as friends.

The FBI kept this country free of Hitler's agents during the war; the FBI can do the same in relation to Stalin's agents.

If you want to know how they do it, see the motion pictures, "My Son John" and "Walk East on Beacon" when they appear in your neighborhood.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Alice Through the Looking Glass had nothing on me. Remember how she had to run like anything to stay in the same place? Well, the social desk typewriter got hot from the social stories tapping out of it last night, and there's still more on the copy hook than got in the paper.

But whatever your social obligations are today, remember your primary one is at the polls, and no pun intended. No sense going in for culture unless you live in an atmosphere where culture can thrive. No sense working for better schools unless you vote to support them—well, anyway, unless you vote first you've no business complaining about conditions.

Nobody was complaining about anything at the DAR luncheon except that they'd eaten so much of Martha Hood's delicious food that they could scarcely stay awake for the program. Everything had a tantalizing difference in taste that had everybody savoring and trying to identify just what was different.

Nobody was complaining about the junior band at the Stroudsburg PTA last night either, with a very vociferous claque really sending the youngsters home with visions of Carnegie Hall in their dreams.

As for me, I'll dream that on Wednesday they'll turn the whole paper over to social news and we'll get everything in and start fresh for Thursday—which from the looks of things will fill several volumes all by itself.

THE
Wyckoff
SHOPPER

A telephone call from Mrs. Robert Miller, administrative officer of the Monroe County unit, American Cancer Society, informs me that members of the Monroe County Garden Club will do their part in behalf of the society's present campaign for funds by selling potted plants all day Friday here in Wyckoff's.

The women will not only sell plants, but will be happy to accept contributions to the cancer crusade which, as you and I know, is a truly worthy cause. Whether or not we wish to face it, we must admit that the threat of cancer confronts us all. We have, however, the hope-inspiring knowledge that in these days of scientific progress, miracles are being worked daily. Eventually man may be master of his destiny, insofar as this particular scourge is concerned. But while nations can be conquered with bombs... critics won over with tolerance... and children swayed by love, disease can be fought only by research. And that is not possible unless there is a backlog of money. Lots of it.

There are many ways in which to give. This Wednesday night between the hours of seven and eight, you are asked to place a light in your window as the signal that you are interested in participating in the crusade against cancer. A light in the window is a time honored American custom; a bright, warm reminder of pioneer days when home was often just one tiny spot of civilization in the wilds of an unexpected land. Today a light in the window has become the symbol of American standing shoulder to shoulder, a determined army, pledged to do all in their power to alleviate suffering and despair. As for your donation... it needn't be large. If everyone gave even a little, just think what a miracle we could buy. The bigger the better, of course... but even the small gift will be welcome and useful.

If you can, give Wednesday! Then, on Friday, come in to Wyckoff's and see the plant booth. If you like flowers or fern in your window, buy one or two. A plant that will plant hope in human hearts! All contributors to the cause through the display in Wyckoff's will receive a flower—the gift of a local florist. We like the whole idea... it sounds so bright and gay... so sort of heaven blessed!

Tax Measure Applies To School Buses

The effect of the State's revised eight-mill transportation tax on school bus contractors was clarified at a meeting at Clearview school yesterday of contractors in this area, school officials and a State representative.

County Superintendent of Schools John C. Litts presided and introduced W. I. Bevan, an adviser from the State Bureau of School Administration in charge of transportation.

The meeting was called in response to persistent inquiries from district school directors and bus contractors on the manner in which the amendment to Fannin's Law 694, the "Gross Receipts Tax Act," passed by the 1951 legislature, affected local bus systems.

The law, as interpreted by Bevan, definitely does apply to school bus operations.

In addition to drivers, district school directors, Litts and Bevan, the County School Board was also in attendance.

Among matters discussed by Bevan other than the tax law, were contracts, overloading, the extension of transportation routes for school buses, the authority of the driver while operating the school bus and a further clarification of the law concerning stoppage of traffic while loading and unloading school buses.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY

Robert Christenberry, colorful figure entrusted with the task of cleaning up the fight game in New York City and state, may very well be the featured speaker at the Spring banquet of the Stroudsburg High Varsity "S" Club next month, at the Penn-Stroud Hotel. However, no official acceptance of the invitation tendered him has been received from the gentleman who calls Shawnee-on-Delaware home just as often as his pressing duties in the big city allow.

Even though no official word has been received from Christenberry, unofficial reports making the rounds indicate that the Empire State boxing czar will be on hand to address the large group scheduled to attend the banquet. Bob is well known in this area, as a hotel man, a golfer and a good guy. His many friends from Monroe County are pulling for him to make good in his attempt to rid the ring sport of the scum that has dominated it for years.

Harry Schaeffer was in the bull pen yesterday for the first time since the American League season got under way, as the New York Yankees took the measure of the Philadelphia A's, 5-1. The lanky hurler reported in a telephone conversation last night that he felt good, his arm was in the best condition it has been all Spring and that his control has been good in several batting practice mound jobs. However, up to an early hour last night the popular southpaw hadn't been told when his first mound appearance would take place.

Speaking of Schaeffer brings to mind the fact that Harry will appear on Joe Whalen's Sports Roundup tomorrow at 6:30 p. m., over WVPO, by way of a wire recording. The recording was made prior to last Saturday's contest at the Stadium, between the Yankees and Washington Senators. Howard Atwell also takes part in the interview in the Yankee dugout, following Schaeffer's batting practice mound chore. Manager Casey Stengel and pitchers Joe Ostrowski and Bob Kuzava add station breaks to the interview, adding further major league background.

Harry Obitz, head pro at Shawnee Country Club, is back at his familiar post, following an adventurous ride through the midwest flood. According to reports Harry was forced to try four bridges before he could cross the raging Mississippi River, on his way from Nebraska. Bob Minch and John Bove are also back for another season at Shawnee, while the familiar features of "Rocky" Coco will also be back at the well known club this year. Minch recently arrived at his summer post after traveling from California.

Catsaqua High School's Lehigh Valley League championship basketball team, the same one that advanced so far in the state playoffs, is scheduled for a vacation in Miami in the very near future. This is a season that fans of Catsaqua will never forget, not to mention the players. Speaking of Catsy brings to mind the fact that Ken Loeffler, LaSalle coach, was an outstanding hit as a speaker at a banquet for the Rough Riders recently. Reports indicate that the colorful cage mentor has a million stories. Loeffler is on the agenda of the ninth annual Eastern Pennsylvania Scholastic Coaches Association clinic to be held at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College in June.

Marty Baldwin, executive vice president of the Scranton Miners, in the Eastern League, attended an important conference in Scranton yesterday, with Owner Lou Baselle and Manager Zach Taylor. Baldwin is even higher in his regard for Taylor now than he was last week, and his praise at that time was sky-high. Scranton opens its home portion of the Eastern League season Thursday night, at Dunmore Stadium.

Vernon "Lefty" Gomez will be on hand at Reading when Scranton opens there tomorrow, and the former Yankee great will also be on hand at Dunmore Stadium Thursday. Gomez is also listed as one of four speakers at the Hotel Casey on Saturday, at a banquet in honor of the Miners. Others listed as guest speakers are "Rabbit" Maraville, former great shortstop with the Boston Braves; Tommy Richardson, president of the Eastern League; and Joe Reardon, high Philadelphia Phillies' official.

Stroudsburg High requested that Friday's baseball game at Catsaqua be advanced to Thursday, because of "Visitation Day" at Stroudsburg High. Catty approved the request and the contest will be played Thursday afternoon, with Aldea "Red" Fetherman scheduled to make his second mound appearance of the infant campaign. Billy Long reported doing fine as manager at Tarboro, N. C., of the Coastal Plain League, but reports indicate that the popular pilot is in need of an experienced catcher.

Boudreau Chased As Senators Take Measure Of Red Sox, 3-2

Boston (AP)—Julio Moreno's clutch pitching and pinchhitter Sam Mele's long fly to center with the bases loaded in the eighth gave the Washington Senators a 3-2 win over the Boston Red Sox yesterday at Fenway Park.

Moreno is the only pitcher to defeat the Sox this year and this was his second one-run victory as he defeated them in Washington last week, 4-3, in 11 innings. A rubarb developed in the Sox fifth over a decision by Umpire Joe Paparella that resulted in Manager Lou Boudreau being ejected from the game for the first time as a Red Sox pilot.

The Sox opened the inning with Dom DiMaggio getting hit by a pitch and Jim Piersall singled him to second. Don Lenhardt scored DiMaggio with a

The tournament annually draws much interest in this area.

Cubs Down Pirates, 7-1

Pittsburgh (AP)—Phil Cavaretta's Chicago Cubs spoiled rookie Ronnie Kline's major league debut last night by whipping the Bucs 7 to 1 in the season's first night game at Forbes Field.

Good Pitching

Southpaw Paul Minner went the distance for the Cubs to chalk up his first victory of the 1952 campaign. He allowed only three hits, one of them Jack Merson's home run in the fifth inning. It was Merson's second of the year.

Catcher Eddie Fitzgerald and first baseman George Metkovich got the only other hits of the big left hander, both singles.

The Cubs sent Kline to the showers in the second after Minner doubled and tallied on Ramazotti's single to left. Forrest Main relieved Kline at this point. He allowed three more hits and two runs.

But Main settled down after this and blanked the Cubs for the next four frames. He was lifted for a pinchhitter in the sixth.

The Cubs collected 11 hits off four Pirate pitchers. Jim Waugh relieved Main in the seventh and veteran Ted Wilks pitched the ninth. A crowd of 12,378 saw the contest.

Marciano Stops Foo

Providence, R. I. (AP)—"Rocky" Marciano, 189 1/2, scored a sensational second round knockout over Gino Buonvino, 196 1/2, of Italy, in their scheduled 10-round fight last night in the Auditorium.

The knockout came at 1:35 of the second round.

The undefeated Brockton, Mass., heavyweight title contender flattened his foe with a terrific looping right after a bitter exchange in which Buonvino hurt Marciano with a right punch.

Marciano, punching sharply, scored his 40th straight-victory and his 33rd knockout for his most impressive victory since his defeat of Joe Louis.

Buonvino made a real fight of the match, hurting Marciano with a powerful right cross. That came midway in the first round when the Brockton battler walked into the punch. He shook off the effects quickly and uncorked an attack of his own.

Tom Fool Scratched From Derby

New York (AP)—Three of the East's Kentucky Derby candidates, including Tom Fool, the two-year-old champion of 1951, were declared out of the May 3 three-year-old classic yesterday because of illness or injuries.

Tom Fool, winner of $155,910 for owner Jock Whitney last year, developed a cough after finishing second to Master Fiddle in the Wood Memorial at Jamaica last Saturday. Trainer John Garver immediately decided the colt was "too valuable" to risk in the Derby.

At the same time, Siarmount Stable's Primate and Max Kahlbaum's Jampol also were declared out of the Derby because of injuries suffered in the running of the Wood. Alabama-owned Al-ladler, from the Harborview Stable, also was withdrawn from the Derby yesterday because of an injury suffered in a prep race at Keeneland.

Air Trip

Master Fiddle, surprise winner of the Wood for the Myhelyn Stable of Nick Martini and Meyer Mazor, will be shipped to Louis-vile by air Thursday. Traveling with him will be Count Flame, owned by Jack Amiel, whose Count Turf won the Derby last year. Both are trained by Sol Rutechick.

Alfred Vanderbilt's unpredictable Cousin, a disappointing eighth in the Wood, will be shipped to Louisville by train today. He will be accompanied by Eysard Sharp's Hannibal, winner of the first Experimental Handicap this spring.

At Laurel, Md., Dion E. Kerr, Jr., trainer of Mrs. Marion du-

Pont's Scott's Pintor, said that colt had earned a Derby trip by finishing third in the Wood. He will be shipped late this week. Pintor faded at the finish after battling Tom Fool into the stretch in Saturday's mile and one eighth race.

White Oak Stable's Blue Man, regarded as one of the East's best Derby prospects after winning the Experimental Handicap number two, was not named for the Wood and was on his way to Kentucky before that race was run.

Raschi Hurls Yankees To Nod Over A's

New York (AP)—Vic Raschi continued his mastery over his Philadelphia cousins yesterday, pitching the New York Yankees to a 5-1 victory over the Athletics.

The powerful right hander didn't have one of his good days and wasn't even there at the finish, but he stayed around long enough to register his eighth straight and his twenty-second lifetime victory over the A's against only two setbacks. Philadelphia hasn't beaten him since August 13, 1950.

Beat Jinx

The Yankees were up against a jinx of their own in Bobby Shantz. The little lefthander, who had whipped the Yankees in his last three starts against them in 1951 and had beaten them in his only previous start against them this season, hurred well enough to win most games. His defense, however, fell apart behind him as two glaring errors handed the Yankees three unearned runs.

Shantz permitted the Yanks only five hits in the six innings he worked before bowing out for a pinch hitter, but one of them was Mickey Mantle's first homer of the campaign in the first inning. The A's left ten runners stranded and hit into four double plays. Their only run came in the second, stole second and scored on inning when Gus Zernial when Ferris Fain singled for his first hit in 22 times at bat this season.

Giants Roll Over Phillies

Philadelphia, (AP)—The New York Giants unlocked an extra-base hit barrage that included a pair of home runs and three triples last night as they blasted four Philadelphia Phillies' pitchers for a 10-4 victory before 14,609 fans at Shibe Park.

Don Mueller, with three hits including a triple and his first home run of the season, and Bobby Thomson with a two run homer led the assault on starting pitcher Howard Fox and his three successors, Lou Possehl, Steve Ridzik and Bob Miller.

Big Guns

Mueller batted home four runs, while Thomson drove home two with his first inning homer, his first since his dramatic four-bagger won the 1951 National League flag for the Giants in the last inning of the deciding playoff game against the Brooklyn Dodgers last October.

Henry Thompson and Willie Mays, fleet Negro outfielders, each bagged a pair of hits and drove home a pair of runs to help back up the eight hit pitching of right-hander Jim Hearn and his late inning relief, southpaw Dave Koslo. New York — 304 020 010—10 12 2

Davey In Middle Of Two Fights

Chicago (AP)—The Illinois State Athletic Commission yesterday ruled that welterweight "Chuck" Davey's Chicago Stadium bout with Chico Vejar May 7 had precedence over Davey's scheduled match with Carmen Basilio at Syracuse Thursday night.

Gashes
Davey, who suffered two eye gashes in training last week, was warned by the New York State Athletic Commission last weekend he must fight in Syracuse Thursday night or be suspended. Davey's manager said he will be unable to fight Thursday night.

The Illinois commission wrestled with Davey's contractual problem for nearly four hours at a regular meeting. Illinois and New York recently signed a reciprocal agreement to concur in suspensions.

Eastern Loop Ready To Open Season

Williamsport (AP)—Reading re-joins the class "A" Eastern League as the eight-team baseball loop opens its thirtieth season tomorrow.

President Tommy Richardson is early with a prediction that the pennant race will be "a free-for-all scramble right down to the wire."

Reading Returns

Reading, back in the loop for the second time in 17 years, is a farm club of the Cleveland Indians which transferred the Wilkes-Barre franchise to the Pretzel City shortly after the 1951 season ended.

Reading plays Scranton at home tomorrow night. Other opening games tomorrow are Albany at Hartford, Binghamton at Schenectady and Elmira at Williamsport.

Reds' Outfielder Loses Appendix

Cincinnati (AP)—Wally Post, Cincinnati Reds' outfielder, was operated on yesterday for appendicitis.

The young player, who has been a disappointment to Manager Luke Sewell so far this year, was with the club in Pittsburgh last week and Sunday.

Pain

He reported being in pain and after an examination yesterday morning, the club surgeon, Dr. Reed Shank, ordered him to the hospital and removed the appendix.

Post was said to be in satisfactory condition following the operation. His home is in Saint Henry, Mercer County, Ohio.

Four Named To Guide Eagles

Philadelphia, (AP)—James P. Clark, president of the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League, yesterday named a four-man committee to conduct the affairs of the team for one year.

Recovering

Clark, who is head of a syndicate of 100 Philadelphia which purchased the Eagles three years ago, is recuperating from a recent illness. He will remain as president but will take no active part in the club's operation for 1952.

Named by Clark to carry on were Frank L. McNamers, club treasurer; Paul C. Lewis, secretary; Vincent A. McNally, general manager; and Joseph A. Donoghue, business manager.

Mize To Hang Up Spikes At Finish Of Present Campaign

New York (AP)—Georgia-born John Mize, terror of major league pitchers for nearly two decades, said between chomps of tobacco yesterday that this is his last season for lugging the big willow to the plate.

"I decided to play this one out and then quit," the thick-chested first baseman of the New York Yankees said. "Yes, sir, regardless of what kind of season I have, this is the last one."

"I'm tired of all this traveling. That bat feels heavier every time I walk up there to hit. I'm tired of reading in the papers every time I see my name mentioned: 'Old man Mize. Old man Mize.'"

The 225-pound slugger, traded to the Yankees by the New York Giants in August, 1949, hit the Yankee Stadium batting cage broadside with an unerring spurt of his brown plug and added:

"I'll be 40 by the time another season rolls around. I figure I've had it."

"I've bought into a little business down in Deland, Fla.—the liquor package business. I've also bought a 12-acre place with two fishing lakes in my back yard and some nice orange groves."

"If I don't stay in baseball in some other kind of a job I figure I'll just loaf around home—work three days a week and loaf four."

The big southerner with the ham-like arms said one of his reasons for playing this year is to attain two goals: surpass Joe DiMaggio's all-time home run total and get his 2,000th hit.

Big Jawa has 351 homers, needs only 11 more to beat the 361 output of DiMaggio, who retired after last season. Through Sunday's game he had 1,954 hits, needing only 46 more for his goal.

"But it's getting tougher as I go along," Mize added.

Pocono Mountains League Ready To Open 1952 Season

Bartonsville—Plans were complete for the opening of the Pocono Mountains League at a regular monthly meeting of the diamond circuit here at the Bartonsville Hotel last night. Both the 1952 schedule and by-laws were adopted.

A total of 36 people, including league officers and representatives of all ten teams in the circuit, were in attendance at the meeting. Clinton Getz, president, was in charge of the meeting.

Each team turned in temporary rosters and presented entrance fees. Each club in turn learned that it was officially covered by insurance.

James Schlegel, Nazareth, was announced as the assigner of umpires for the league, a position that he also holds in the Blue Mountain League.

The temporary rosters, of 25 players, will remain in force until Monday, June 30, when permanent rosters of 20 players take over.

Action in the 1952 season is slated to open on Sunday, May 11, and John Wernet, secretary of the league, reports all ten clubs ready. The clubs entered are Redders, Tannersville, Bushkill, Lake Harmony, West End A. C., Kunkletown, Saylorsburg, Tobyhanna, Anamokin, Barrett.

Action in the circuit will take place every Sunday and on Summer holidays.

Bushkill is returning after a year's absence from the league.

Bill and Mary Cassati, owners of Bartonsville Hotel, served a buffet luncheon to all those in attendance.

Rumors Denied
Camp Pickett, Va. (AP)—A military spokesman yesterday denied rumors that Don Newcombe, Brooklyn's 20-game winning pitcher ace last season, would be given an imminent medical discharge.

Bascom Gains Prestige
St. Louis (AP)—Walloping Wes-bury Bascom, East St. Louis Ne-braska, regained some heavy-weight prestige last night with a fifth-round knockout of Larry Watson of Omaha.

Steele To Hurl Against Hellertown

East Stroudsburg High School opens its quest for a Lehigh-Northampton League baseball title today, when the Cavaliers invade the home ball yard of Hellertown High, at 4 p.m. It will be the second contest of the season for the Eastburg contingent, but the first against circuit opposition.

Ray Steele will open on the mound for the Cavaliers and the lanky right hander is entrusted with the job of getting the purple and white color bearers off to a flying start in the diamond wars.

Steele the target of several major league scouts, will have Leon Alberts as his battery mate.

The infield will feature Harold White at shortstop in the absence of Paul "Candy" Miller, while John "Juice" Arnat handles first base and Jack Sommers and Don France occupy their usual second and third base positions respectively.

Outfield
Dick Transue or Harold Litts will open in left; Marlin "Ducky" Martz, center, and George Litts in the right field pastures.

Hellertown, an annual baseball power in the Lehigh-Northampton League, will provide stiff opposition for the Cavaliers in the latter's first circuit outing.

Coach Jack Kist may make a switch or two in batting order. In case Steele should falter along the nine-inning route, Joe Antonecci will handle the pitching relief duties.

East Stroudsburg plays home on Friday, against a highly regarded Parkland club.

Bangor Meets Belvidere

Belvidere, N. J.—Bangor High school's baseball team will provide the opposition for Belvidere High here today, on the latter's home field. The opening pitch is scheduled to take place at 4 p.m.

It will be the first of two games to be played between these two teams this season. The second clash is listed for Bangor on Tuesday, May 27. It is the final contest on Bangor's schedule.

Pitchers

Coach Dave Thomas will probably send Rodney Taylor to the hill as his starting pitcher, although the starting honor may also go to either Sherwood Schoonover or Dick Cruver.

Bangor opened its season last Saturday by falling before Nazareth, 16-10.

Humez Decisions Dauthille In Paris

Paris (AP)—Charles Humez, 24-year-old rising French middleweight, last night hammered out a ten-round decision over Laurent Dauthille in a bloody battle before 15,000 fans at the Palais Des Sports.

Weights
Humez weighed 156, Dauthille 158 1/2.

The victory gave the battling Frenchman a big boost towards a possible encounter this summer with Sugar Ray Robinson, world middleweight champion.

Doby To Miss Series

Cleveland (AP)—Centerfielder Larry Doby will be out of the Cleveland Indians lineup at least until the weekend, because of a pulled leg muscle.

Manager Al Lopez said that last night shortly before the team boarded a train for St. Louis for a two-game series there with the Browns.

Rolle Believes Base Hits Key To Detroit's Fight To Escape Present Position In Cellar

Chicago, (AP)—You'll get a straight-shooting answer from Manager "Red" Rolle if you ask what's wrong with the Detroit Tigers—only major league team that hasn't won a game this season.

"Red" is a little sensitive about the plight of his club. After all, Detroit is the only team in the majors that's never finished in the cellar. He doesn't want to spoil that mark.

Rolle certainly doesn't think his club will wind up in the cellar—"absolutely not."

He's got another, more immediate worry. His Tigers are headed toward a new record, the kind of record you try to avoid.

The Tigers lost their first seven games, three to the St. Louis Browns and four to the Cleveland Indians, and are now only six defeats short of tying the record for most consecutive opening-season losses.

Joint Record
The Tigers of 1920 and the Washington Senators of 1904 jointly hold the record of 13.

"Red" pin-points his troubles thus: "We need some long-ball hitting from our infield."

And then "Red" amends it: "We need some long-ball hitting—period."

The Tigers have rapped only ten extra base hits to their foes' 20. Percentage-wise the club is hitting almost as well as opponents. But you can't win on singles, "Red" keeps stressing.

The Tigers' long-term problem is its lack of infield power—and it's not likely to be solved unless a trade is made or "Red" experiments drastically.

"Our immediate problem is to get outfielder Vic Wertz and third baseman George Kell hitting the way they should," said "Red," who may switch Wertz to first base to help the infield headache.

Wertz, whose 27 homers led the club last season, has only two hits—a homer and a double—in 23 trips. Kell, annually a contender for the batting title, is hitting only .192.

Sedgman Wins Over Drobny In Rome

Rome, (AP)—Australia's Frank Sedgman, displaying his best form since he led his country to victory in the Davis Cup challenge round, defeated Jaroslav Drobny of Egypt, 7-5, 6-3, 1-6, 6-4, yesterday in the finals of Italy's "Little Wimbledon" Tournament.

The match had been regarded by experts here as a preview of the coming world championship Wimbledon tourney in England. It served to prove once again that the 24-year-old Australian ace has Drobny's number. Only eight days ago he defeated the expatriate Czech in the Monte Carlo Tournament.

Doubles Victory

Later Sedgman and Drobny teamed up to defeat Italy's Gianni Cuculli and Marcello Del Bello for the doubles crown, 3-6, 7-5, 3-6, 6-3, 6-2.

In the mixed doubles final, Arvilla McGuire of Piedmont, Calif., and Kurt Nielsen of Denmark defeated Josefa Di Riba, Spain, and Eugenio Migone, Italy, 4-6, 6-3, 6-3.

Local Entry Leads Field

Auburn, Pa. — Hassler's Little Jim, owned by Marvin Hassler, 620 Wiaz Ave., Stroudsburg, won top honors in the 13-inch class of Snyder's Memorial Beagle Field Trial held on Saturday, May 20. The winning entry was rewarded with a trophy.

There were 68 entries in the field.

Places

Second place went to Monarch Lady, owned by Morrison Orr, Piqua, O. Third place went to White Art Ringlette, property of "Bud" Scherer, Reading, O'Donnell's Sarah, property of Ray O'Donnell, Reading, placed fourth. Reserve laurels went to Phoebe of Birch Creek, belonging to Wilbur Miller, Summit Hill, Pa.

Judges for the event were Joseph Orlosky, Pottsville, and William Fisher, Wilmington, Del.

Coleman Becomes Father Of Son

New York, (AP)—Jerry Coleman, second baseman of the New York Yankees, became the father of a boy yesterday morning.

The youngster, who weighed seven pounds, seven ounces, was born to Mrs. Louise Coleman in San Francisco. The couple have one other child, Diane, two.

Departs

Coleman leaves here April 30, after playing his last game for the world champions before reporting to the U.S. Marines for duty as a pilot. He has been ordered to service at Los Alamitos Air Base May 2.

Barrett Lists Diamond Slate

Canadensis—Barrett High School opens its 1952 baseball schedule on Thursday, as does the remainder of the Monroe County League. However, the diamond charges of Coach Ed Kriner have added two games to the list of circuit opponents.

The two added games are a home-and-home rivalry with Greene-Dresher-Sterling High, at Barrett on Tuesday, May 6, and Newfoundland on Tuesday, May 20.

League Games
There are five league games on the agenda, three to be played on the Barrett field and two on foreign soil.

All of Barrett's home games get under way at 3 p. m.

Schedule follows:
April 24—Canadensis—Home
May 2—Christiansburg—Away
May 6—Greene-Dresher-Sterling—Home
May 9—Pottsville—Away
May 16—Pottsville—Home
May 20—Greene-Dresher-Sterling—Away
May 23—Tobyhanna Township—Home

Saddler Takes Title Into Army

New York, (AP)—Featherweight boxing champion Sandy Saddler was inducted into the Army yesterday and his title went with him for a two-year stay.

The lanky, 25-year-old New York Negro became the first boxing champion to enter the services since the Korean conflict. And following the precedent set in World War Two, the NBA immediately announced that Saddler's title will be held for him until he returns from the Army.

No Comment
Bob Christenberry, chairman of the New York Athletic Commission, was out of town yesterday and not available for a ruling, but he is expected to keep in step with the NBA on this one. The New York Commission also froze the titles of all servicemen in the last war.

Stroudsburg High Band To Give Concert

Thursday at 8:15 p.m. the Stroudsburg High School Band will present its annual spring concert, under the direction of John Pyle.

Selections on the program will range from the currently popular Leroy Anderson novelty tune "The Syncopated Clock" to John Philip Sousa's rousing march tune "King Cotton."

A medley of Hungarian dances will provide a continental flavor for the middle portion of the program with a second Anderson tune "Sleigh Ride" giving the concert a definitely American touch.

George Gershwin, America's foremost concert jazz composer, will be represented on the bill by a series of his popular tunes from well-known Broadway musicals. Peter DeRose and Mitchell Parish are the composers of "Deep Purple," a perennially popular standard.

Also included in the program will be two overtures by Yoder—"The Midnight Sun" and "Mountain Majesty" and three marches by Sousa.

As its closing number for this year's concert the Stroudsburg instrumental and vocal departments unite in a vocal-band version of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic"—marking the first time the chorus and band have appeared together in public performance.

The school's 55-piece band and 75-voice chorus will be combined in the staging of the final number.

Groups Visit County Home

The Junior Legion and the Singing Group of the Salvation Army paid a visit to the County Home with belated Easter sunshine baskets. The young people also presented their Easter program.

A program of songs and recitations were given by the children of the Junior Legion. Recitations were by Florence, James, Thomas, Jack and David Rode, Michael and Gloria Jean Reinheimer, Charlotte Van Auker, Alberta Sargent, Mary Lou Ludwig and Harriet Smith. Songs were sung by the entire group, and there was a duet by Betty Diehl and Bertha Kile.

Tulsa Pianist To Play New Composition By Tom Waring

A new Tom Waring composition will be included in the program of the University of Tulsa Chorus concert which will be presented at the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College auditorium Tuesday night, May 6. This work, entitled "I'll Wait My Love," is a suite of four waltzes for piano and male voices.

It had its premiere performance last Friday in Bethlehem, Pa., by the chorus of Lehigh University. The piano soloist for the Stroudsburg presentation by the Tulsa singers will be by Miss Elvina Truman. (No—no relation). Miss Truman's first professional achievement was the winning of the Patrick Hayes award in a Washington, D. C. competition. Since that event she has appeared in concerts, alone and with leading symphonic groups, in many mid-west and western cities. Top recognition came in a concerto performance with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra. She is now a scholarship student at the University of Tulsa.

In addition to the new Waring

Representatives of all fire companies in the county are affiliated with the organization.

On Thursday night, the Civic League of Tobyhanna village is sponsoring a meeting for the purpose of the Civil Defense forces in Tobyhanna and Coolbaugh Townships forming an organization.

Former Hitler Youth Helps Pastor Conduct Jail Service

Assisting Rev. William F. Wunder, of East Stroudsburg Grace Lutheran Church, at services at the county jail Sunday was a former member of Germany's Hitler Youth.

He was Lothar Schneider, 23, former Cologne resident now living with his mother, Mrs. Meta Schneider, at 102 Analomink St., East Stroudsburg.

Schneider and his mother arrived in the States last October as DPs, under the sponsorship of an uncle, Carl Schmidt, Minisink Hills.

The young man, a skilled tool and die maker, is now employed as a machinist at the Art Metal plant in East Stroudsburg. He is repaying his uncle the money advanced for passage last year.

Active in the Lutheran church, the youth was asked by Rev. Wunder to go along for the jail services and play the accordion.

He played the hymns for the 10 prisoners. A day or so ago, the former member of the Hitler Youth got a letter: Selective Service forms for possible service in the U. S. Armed Forces.

Politicians Watch For 'Groundswell'

Philadelphia (AP) — Pennsylvanians vote today in a shadow primary in which politicians will be searching avidly for signs of a groundswell favoring any Republican or Democratic presidential candidate.

Voters will pick 60 national convention delegates for each party. But they probably will know little, if anything, about the presidential preference of more than a handful of those they choose.

With scattered showers forecast, only about 1,000,000 Republican and 600,000 Democratic voters are likely, about 30 per cent of registrations.

Voters can express themselves directly in a preferential (popularity) contest. Gen Dwight D. Eisenhower and former Minnesota Gov. Harold E. Stassen are the only GOP ballot entries—with a possibly strong write-in for Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

But here again the poll results may have little to do with the final disposition of the state's 70 Republican presidential nominating delegates. They apparently will be held in reserve in an effort by the party's state leadership to plunk a majority of them down on the bandwagon of the prospective winner at the Chicago convention.

The Democratic popularity poll might be more influential if a strong write-in develops for any one candidate.

There are no names on the party presidential ballot, but there are indications that Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, W. Averell Harriman, the mutual security director, may figure strongly in the totals. There probably will be, also, substantial vote totals for President Truman, and Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, who say they aren't running.

Unless plans are changed, however, the State's Democratic delegation will go officially uncommitted to Chicago. Ten votes already picked at large, are not tied to any candidate.

Gov. John S. Fine, credited with being able to influence the votes of about 40 of the State's 70 Republican delegates, has said he will study the returns for any indication of a groundswell for any candidate. Of 10 GOP at-large delegates already chosen, five follow Fine, three lean to Taft and two favor Eisenhower.

Eisenhower backers have campaigned the State to roll up an impressive total for the general. Taft asked his supporters not to write in his name, saying that the results in the popularity test would mean nothing.

This brought a charge from Edwin F. Russell, State chairman of Citizens for Eisenhower, that Taft's men are "setting the stage for another phony moral victory claim."

"The statement of Senator Taft's eastern campaign manager that no campaign is being conducted in Pennsylvania, and the tongue-in-cheek request for no write-in votes, are part of a very transparent maneuver to make the most of whatever votes are cast for Taft," Russell declared.

Denying this vigorously, John D. M. Hamilton, Taft's eastern manager, offered to contribute $5,000 to "any charity they pick" if the Eisenhower people could prove any organization campaign had been carried on here for Taft.

Hamilton told this reporter he doesn't believe the primary results here "will mean anything." He predicted Taft will have a "minimum" of 25 of the State's delegates at convention time, adding that "we'll have a big majority if Governor Fine goes with us."

A new development that might influence the Pittsburgh races was the endorsement by the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette of Eisenhower's candidacy. The city's only morning newspaper said Eisenhower is "the man best qualified to guide the nation through a turbulent international situation."

In suburban Montgomery County here, Leonard C. Bill Jr., an open Eisenhower supporter, is trying to wrest one of two delegate places away from Joseph N. Pew Jr., and Russell E. Crawford, both officially uncommitted, and slated by the county GOP organization. Both reported favoring Taft.

Voters Invited To Ride Free To Polls Today

A free ride to the polls is offered every registered voter in Stroudsburg, East Stroudsburg and Stroud Township today by the Kiwanis Club.

Joining the "Ballot Battalion" of the national organization, local members will have a battery of cars in operation from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. Polls, however, will be open from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m.

A call to the Penn-Stroud Hotel—380, extension 500—will bring immediate response from one of the Kiwanis drivers.

Results of the Presidential Primary will be displayed in bulletin form, on both local and state-wide results by The Daily Record on bulletin boards in front of the office at 18 N. Seventh St., Stroudsburg, as fast as returns are received tonight.

Special attention will be given to presidential write-ins of both parties.

Atomic Blast Slated For 12:30 Today

Atom Bomb Site, Nev., (AP)—An atomic bomb, one of the two most powerful ever to be detonated within the United States, will burst today at a record altitude of 3,000 to 3,500 feet above a battlefield where soldiers and weapons are deployed.

Officials directing the test, set for the hour after 9:30 a. m., (12:30, Eastern Standard Time) gave these details yesterday:

The explosion will be televised nationally. Prospects seemed good yesterday for clear weather.

Dr. Alvin C. Graves, test director, explained that the high altitude of the burst—farther up than any American test held anywhere—is to "avoid dust, contamination and fall-out."

(Fall-out means the dropping of contaminated particles of rain from clouds as they move out from the scene of the burst to drift scores or hundreds of miles downwind.)

Dust from the blast also could be contaminated, creating an extra hazard for troops huddled in their foxholes.

Observers at the scene will be about 10 miles from the burst, Gordon Dean, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, told a session of official observers and reporters.

He did not pin-point the distance at which troops, the first to be brought within the lethal range of atomic detonation, would be located in their foxholes and fortifications.

However, there seemed a possibility it might be at half or less than half of the 10-mile range for the observers.

Stolen Liquor Truck Abandoned

Cleveland (AP)—Thieves who police said obviously "just wanted to have a party" stole a truck containing 10,980 bottles of whiskey yesterday.

But after drinking just six bottles, the culprits apparently became discouraged at the limitless supply. Police found the truck and other bottles abandoned a few miles away.

The whiskey, valued at $32,940, was taken from in front of a cartage company.

To Suspend Controls

Washington, (AP)—The government today will suspend price controls on 16 commodities, including some fats and oils, hides, raw wool and burlap.

Rains Add To Woes In Flood Area

Kansas City (AP)—Missouri Valley dike crews strained to hold their own yesterday in a battle of flood and mud.

Rain softened the dikes where men and truck skidded in the mud. More showers were forecast. But the army of flood fighters seemed to be winning at several critical places.

In the danger area below St. Joseph, Mo., forecasters said last night's rain might average an inch. That would send the river above the predicted crest of 29 feet at Kansas City to 31 feet or more—still well below the level the dikes were built to withstand. More showers are forecast for Wednesday in the same area.

A sod-busting rain can come anytime in the midlands under such April conditions.

While the record upriver flood spread over the lowlands, levees still held at the $3,500,000 Sherman Air Force Base at old Fort Leavenworth. Army engineers thought they could save it.

Farther upstream at St. Joseph, Rosecrans Field was deep under 14 feet of water.

The Army district engineer at Kansas City estimated that more than 9,000 persons were homeless between Rulo, Neb., and Kansas City, and another 3,000 displaced persons below Kansas City.

Col. L. J. Lincoln said 386,000 acres of land were under water between Rulo and the mouth of the river. The sheriff's office estimated 55,000 acres were under water in Atchison County, which is north of Rulo.

More than 3,700 soldiers and 2,200 civilians were battling the surging waters between here and St. Joseph. The 31st Engineer Combat Battalion from Camp McCoy, Wis., is being held as a reserve.

Throughout the day the waters were held steady near Craig, Mo., which has been fighting for more than a week to keep the town of 800 dry.

In Missouri, Gov. Forrest Smith proclaimed a flood emergency and asked President Truman for an allotment of Federal relief funds. Smith requested no specific amount because, he said, it is not known yet how great the damage may be.

It was touch and go at all the critical spots in the slippery mud caused by half-inch rains.

Farther north, the Mississippi crest had passed La Crosse, Wis., but protective levees remained in danger. Overcast skies threatened more rain after a fall of .06 inch earlier.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's chief of staff at Supreme Headquarters Allied Forces in Europe (SHAPE) was cautiously but definitely optimistic in a speech at the annual Associated Press Luncheon.

Gruenther said there are those who believe Russia will attack the West this year.

"I am not one of them," he added.

"There are other discordant voices who say that war with the Soviet Union is inevitable and it is only a question of when that war will take place."

"With that doctrine of despair I am in complete disagreement. It is my firm conviction that we have within our power the prevention of war."

He admitted that in Europe the Western Allies still lack "the necessary forces to stop a determined Soviet attack."

"However," Gruenther added, "our capabilities for defense are much greater than they were a year ago and if the decisions taken at Lisbon are carried out we will have an increased posture for defense a year from this time."

Chinese Cavalry On Central Front

Seoul, Korea, Tuesday (AP)—The appearance of whitecloaked Chinese cavalry on Korea's central front has U. S. Eighth Army officers puzzled.

A group of 200 was spotted moving toward Kumsong yesterday afternoon. Heavy Allied artillery ripped the column to pieces.

Another group of 50 was spotted five minutes later in the same sector, and a third column of 60 was seen about dusk.

"We can't attach any significance to the report at this time," an Eighth Army staff officer said. "Intelligence officers are studying the details. All we have now are fragmentary reports."

Giant Storm Front

Oklahoma City, (AP)—A giant storm front extending from Southern Kansas to Northern Texas centered over Oklahoma last night, shooting out tornado fingers in at least seven places and bringing heavy rains and hail.

Andrews Appointed

Washington (AP)—Stanley Andrews, 56, editor and government administrator, was nominated yesterday to head the Point Four program as technical cooperation administrator.

Senate Refuses To Vote Funds For Steel Seizure

Washington (AP)—The Senate, rejecting a last-minute appeal by President Truman, voted 44 to 31 yesterday to ban the use of any money in a 960 million dollar appropriations bill to carry out Truman's seizure of the steel industry.

Two Fliers Cleared By Air Chief

San Antonio, Tex. (AP)—Charges against two reserve fliers for refusing to fly were dismissed yesterday after a visit here by Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, Air Force chief of staff.

However, the general said afterwards that the Air Force had no idea of softening its attitude toward balky pilots.

Maj. Gen. J. K. Lacey, who ordered the charges dropped, said the two officers would be separated from the service. The men were 1st Lt. James G. Bristol, 35, pilot, Harlan, Iowa, and 1st Lt. Edwin L. Cox, 35, bombardier, St. Louis, Mo.

The commanding general of crew training Air Force said investigations were continuing in the case of four other Randolph reservists under similar charges.

East St. Louis, Ill., (AP)—Discovery of a scheme through which four Reserve Air Force officers paid bribes to escape active duty, apparently through alteration of military medical records, was reported yesterday by U. S. Attorney William Hart.

At least seven others were solicited for bribes but denied making payments, Hart said. He added the bribes were solicited by "at least one service man" at nearby Scott Air Force Base, headquarters of the Air Training Command.

Allies Have Never Plotted Attack On Reds

New York (AP)—Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther pledged yesterday that the free Allies in Europe have never been discussed, let alone planned, an attack on the Communist world.

And he said Soviet Russia knows that, despite its fear propaganda to the contrary.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's chief of staff at Supreme Headquarters Allied Forces in Europe (SHAPE) was cautiously but definitely optimistic in a speech at the annual Associated Press Luncheon.

Gruenther said there are those who believe Russia will attack the West this year.

"I am not one of them," he added.

"There are other discordant voices who say that war with the Soviet Union is inevitable and it is only a question of when that war will take place."

"With that doctrine of despair I am in complete disagreement. It is my firm conviction that we have within our power the prevention of war."

"However," Gruenther added, "our capabilities for defense are much greater than they were a year ago and if the decisions taken at Lisbon are carried out we will have an increased posture for defense a year from this time."

"As long as I have anything to do with it, there will be no price increase beyond what the steel industry could get under the Capehart amendment, which is approximately $3 a ton," said Price Boss Ellis Arnall.

"Insofar as I know," Arnall continued, "there is no plan to give the industry an increase above the $3."

Tear Gas Used Against Rebels

Rahway, N.J. (AP)—A prison official admitted that a "slight amount" of tear gas was used last night on 231 rebel convicts who have barricaded themselves in a dormitory of the Rahway State Prison Farm since Thursday night.

The rebellious prisoners had unfurled a bed sheet sign early in the evening announcing "We're being gassed. Even officers."

By "officers" they referred to eight guards, who are being held as hostages by the rioting prisoners.

Prison Superintendent R. William Lagay at first denied the convicts' gas charge and said only that use of tear gas had been threatened when a disturbance broke out in the dormitory about 6 p.m. and spread to the south wing of the prison farm, which has not been involved in the four-day-old rebellion.

Murphy Takes Oath

Washington (AP)—Robert D. Murphy was sworn in yesterday as first postwar ambassador to Japan, and Secretary of State Acheson told Murphy it will be up to him to open up "a whole new era in relations" with America's former enemy.

Reds Shell Ships Ten Miles At Sea

Tokyo, Tuesday, (AP)—Greatly improved Communist shore batteries guarding Korea's northeast coast have been shelling some American warships nearly 10 miles at sea.

The U.S. Navy reported in a survey requested by the Associated Press that this almost certainly means the Reds are using radar-directed heavy guns.

The Navy did not specifically report hits at that range, but for the first time it disclosed that 41 U.S. ships have been hit in the past 18 months.

Thirty-one of the ships were struck off Wonsan, the battered coastal rail and road junction on the east coast which had been under constant naval bombardment.

Knowland's amendment faced tougher going, however, since it would require a two-thirds vote to put it over. Yesterday's vote was considerably less than two-thirds.

Senator Knowland (R-Calif.) told newsmen he will move for action today on a potentially far more drastic amendment, designed to forbid the use of any money—appropriated by Congress in the current fiscal year—to handle the seizure.

Knowland's amendment faced tougher going, however, since it would require a two-thirds vote to put it over. Yesterday's vote was considerably less than two-thirds.

Chairman Maybank (D-SC) told newsmen any extension of the economic controls act which his Senate Banking Committee approves will bar industry seizure. Present law expires June 30.

Sponsors of the Ferguson Amendment made no claim that it would knock out the seizure.

Senator Bridges (R-NH), the GOP floor leader, called it a "vehicle" to show Senate disapproval of Truman's action in taking over the mills by executive order.

Ferguson said two items in the money bill, providing funds to run numerous government departments until June 30, might be used in connection with the steel seizure. He listed them as $100,000 for salaries and expenses in the office of Secretary of Commerce Sawyer, nominal boss of the seized mills, and 2½ million dollars for salaries and expenses in the department's defense production activities.

Several hours before the Senate vote, the President denounced the GOP-led drive to choke off government funds and challenged Congress to write its own "affirmative" solution of the steel crisis.

"Do as long as I have anything to do with it, there will be no price increase beyond what the steel industry could get under the Capehart amendment, which is approximately $3 a ton," said Price Boss Ellis Arnall.

"Insofar as I know," Arnall continued, "there is no plan to give the industry an increase above the $3."

Federal Tax Collections Set Record

Washington (AP)—The government last year collected about $362 in taxes for each man, woman and child in the country—or $1,402 from the average family.

The Internal Revenue Bureau announced yesterday that total collections in the past calendar year amounted to $56,093,339,429.69—by far the biggest total in history.

That was an increase of 40 per cent over collections in 1950 and 28 per cent above the previous record of almost 44 billions collected in 1945, the last year of World War Two.

Individual income and social security taxes amounted to about 30 billion dollars last year, of which almost 20 billion was withheld from pay checks. In 1950, individual income and social security taxes totaled more than 21 billions, of which 13 2/3 billion was deducted from pay checks.

Corporation income and excess profits taxes in 1951 jumped at an even higher rate to $16,564,712,955.

New York State provided the biggest revenue, with 10 1/3 billion dollars—almost one-fifth the national total. Illinois was second.

Mountain Climbers Start Up Monument

Indianapolis (AP)—The well-known soldiers and sailors monument in downtown Indianapolis doesn't look exactly like a mountain, but two Yale students from Chicago who said they were experienced mountain climbers were 40 feet up the side of the 284-foot structure early Sunday morning when stopped by police.

They gave their names as Donald Vanarsdale Earnshaw, 26, and Charles C. Haffner, III, 24.

They were released in police court yesterday after an apology. One of them told Judge Scott A. McDonald:

"We just had the urge to climb it."

Still Far Apart

Munsan, Korea, Tuesday, (AP)—Allied and Communist truce negotiators today traded verbal barbs but remained as far apart as ever on how to supervise an armistice.

Cripps Dies; Was Britain's 'Mr. Austerity'

Zurich, Switzerland (AP)—Sir Stafford Cripps, a longtime Socialist statesman and frail but powerful "Mr. Austerity" of Britain's Laborite post-war campaign for economic recovery, died last night. The end came in his 63rd year, in a Zurich clinic, after years of physical suffering and many months of acute illness.

The wealthy lawyer, who had fought most of his life against bad health and for social reform, died at 11 p.m. (5 p.m. EST) at the Living Strength Clinic.

With him was Lady Cripps, whose devotion and care of her husband were his principal strength in recent months. In three days he would have been 63.

The gaunt six-footer had lain in a hospital bed here for four months under treatment for a spinal infection called spondylitis. The infection was discovered late in 1950 when he came to Zurich for treatment for an intestinal complaint.

Poor health had caused him to resign as Britain's chancellor of the exchequer in October, 1950, while the Labor party which he had served energetically for many years was still in power.

Nine Escaped G. I. Prisoners Are Recaptured

Monroe, N. Y. (AP)—After a night of hiding in the woods, nine escaped prisoners from the Sampson Air Force Base stockade were captured yesterday on their way south in a stolen car.

Their desire to stick together led to their being caught. State police stopped the car when they saw it was overcrowded—all nine soldiers piled into the one vehicle.

The nine were among 11 Air Force prisoners who broke out of the stockade Sunday night by sawing through iron bars and climbing over a 10-foot-high barbed wire wall.

The two others were picked up shortly after midnight in Geneva, N. Y.

The 11, all privates and under 21 years of age, had been confined for being away without leave.

Rail Rolls Off Cart, Kills Man

Bethlehem (AP)—A 58-year-old Reading Railroad worker, Edwin Beahn Sr., of Bethlehem, was killed yesterday by a 90-foot section of rail that rolled off a towing cart at nearby Bingen.

Another worker, William Sterner, of Allentown, suffered a fractured skull. The railroad crew was bringing up the rail to replace a section of the track when the accident happened.

Firing a fusillade and wounding one convict in the arms and legs, state troopers and guards finally cleared the mental cell block—Nos. 11 and 12—shortly before 7 p. m.

This cleared the yard and corridors outside "powderkeg" No. 15. State police and guards moved quickly to secure the prison. Four squads of eight troopers each were put to patrolling corridors and 125 guards immediately took up posts at vantage points. Two squads of troopers stood by as reserves.

The convict struck in the arms and legs with shotgun pellets as the fusillade was fired at the outside of the mental cell blocks to drive convicts back to their cells was Arthur Smith, 25. He is serving 5 to 15 years for breaking and entering from Detroit.

In the melee, State Police Commissioner Leonard was hit on the head and required first aid treatment for a nick in the scalp. The commissioner said he thought he was struck by flying glass or chips off bricks.

An inch of water was standing in Nos. 11 and 12 when convicts finally were driven to cells.

Concern Felt For Safety Of Hostages

Jackson, Mich. (AP)—One convict was killed and at least nine others wounded yesterday as grim state police and guards quelled a part of the rioting in Southern Michigan Prison.

But the death of the prisoner—victim of a bullet fired by a law officer—heightened the tension. Authorities said it increased the danger of the guards held hostage in the disciplinary cell block that was the center of the mutiny.

Some of Michigan's most hardened criminals were inside the block. And they asserted earlier in the day that the hostages would be put to death if any prisoner was harmed.

The convicts have radios inside the steel-door cell block 16, the disciplinary block.

Officials feared reprisals from the rioters after it became known Darwin Millage, a 35-year-old convict from Detroit, had died in the prison hospital of a chest wound.

Prison officials were reluctant to confirm first reports of the convict's death. After it became known, State Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard requested Michigan radio stations to withhold mention of the fatality until hostages were released.

Newsmen and photographers with credentials were permitted access to the inside of the prison. They were allowed to move around and take any risks they were willing to take.

Apparently Millage was wounded during the morning when a prison fire truck was brought through the cell yard to fight flames set by the rioting convicts in one of the administration buildings. State police manned the truck. Some of them were armed.

Millage, serving a 15 to 25 year term on a statutory rape charge, was one of the 200 prisoners running loose in the cell-yard when the truck came through.

Later, when about 500 convicts were milling about the yard, armed state police moved in and cleared it. Other inmates were hurt then.

The officers drove the convicts back to the cell blocks, pointing sub-machine guns and throwing tear gas bombs at times. Several shots were fired over the heads of the rioters after prisoners showered the policemen with knives, clubs and other objects.

Then an unidentified guard fired into the crowd. Some suffered gunshot wounds, and others were cut by flying glass or debris.

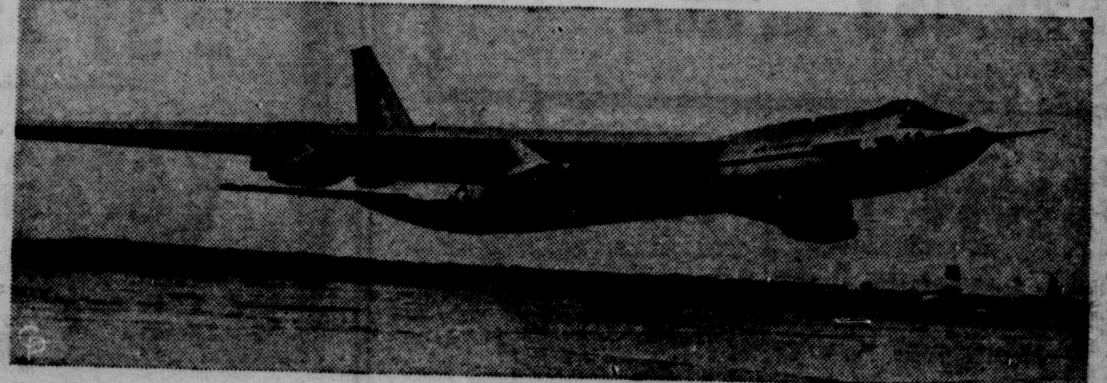

One state trooper was knocked out with a baseball bat thrown by a prisoner. He got up moments later and stayed on duty.

At one time the detention cell convicts held 11 guards as hostages. During the afternoon they released H. W. Curry because he was ill and 69-year-old Charles Good-year because of his age.

By late in the day, authorities were putting their unofficial damage estimates as high as $2,000,000. About $500,000 was fire damage and the rest represented wrecked installations. The prison laundry burned to the ground, and the greenhouse was badly damaged. The general service building, housing the chapel, a store and other departments, was the scene of several fires.

THE YB-60, the U.S. Air Force's new all-jet version of the B-36 bomber, takes off on its maiden flight from Carswell Base, Fort Worth, Texas. Details of the flight and the performance of the eight-engine aircraft which was in the air for one hour and seven minutes, are top secret.

FORD WINS AGAIN!

TAKES FIRST PLACE IN CLASS "A"

IN THE 1952

Mobilgas Economy Run

Ford's the Class "A" Winner for 3rd Consecutive Year!

New Ford Mileage Maker SIX Thriftiest in its Field!

Again this year... as in the past two years... Ford was first in gas economy over all other cars in its price class in the Mobilgas Economy Run. In this toughest-of-all economy test for American stock model cars, a Ford SIX equipped with Overdrive (optional at extra cost) averaged 53.855 ton-miles per gallon and 25.463 actual miles per gallon.

This was a very special triumph for Ford's All-New Mileage Maker high-compression SIX. For now, with its new design providing 101-horsepower and free-turning overhead valves, Ford is definitely pound-for-pound the most economical low-priced car to run! Yes... Ford's thrift was clearly proved by the 1,415-mile grind from Los Angeles to Sun Valley... a course that included dense city traffic, below-sea-level desert heat reaching over 100 degrees, and rugged mountain passes up to 8,000 feet with below zero temperatures. And a very important factor contributing to this victory is Ford's Automatic Power Pilot which squeezes the last ounce of power out of every drop of gas.

*The AAA Contest Board determines the winner by a "ton-miles per gallon" formula to insure equal chance for all cars in each class regardless of size and weight. Ton-miles per gallon equals the car weight (including passengers) in tons, multiplied by number of miles travelled, divided by number of gallons consumed.

Forest Fire Only Partly Checked After Covering Wide Area

Wind Whips Fire Toward Tannersville

Set by an incendiary Sunday night, the forest fire in the Big Pocono area was still raging only partially checked through the brush late last night.

So far the blaze has covered an area estimated by the district forester's office as four miles long by two miles wide.

Crews directed by District Forester E. C. Pyle have been battling the fire since 6 p. m. Sunday.

At that time it was discovered that some one had set 15 separate fires on a line from Little Summit to Deep Lake, in about an hour's time.

The separate fires merged into one big one in a short time. The forester's office last night said some 50 volunteers had been aiding wardens and forestry crews, and more help is being called in.

During the day the brisk wind urged the fire on in a southeasterly direction, toward Tannersville. Motorists looking westward from Route 611 could see the crimson glow reflected from the underside of the smoke pall hanging along the south slope of Big Pocono.

It was estimated by a forester that some 1,500 acres have been burned off.

Harold Hamlen, operator of East Stroudsburg airport, swung over the area a number of times to aid firefighters in spotting the fire's "headers," and direct their activities.

Pilot Jack Davis of Mount Pocono airport also went aloft with a reporter in his plane to check the extent of the fire.

From 1,000 feet up the plateau spread out like a dark, suede-covered table. Puddles of spilled water marked the chain of lakes from Mount Pocono to Blakeslee Corners.

The fire line ran like an insane crimson string in irregular curves and broken arcs below. Visible on the dirt road along the rounded spine of Big Pocono were a half-dozen forestry trucks, jeeps and cars of volunteers.

They were parked on the windward side of the fire, with the flames moving away from them. West of the blackened, burnt-out area were two small smoky spots where fresh blazes appeared to be starting.

Foresters said these were not new fires, however, but "islands" left behind by the main blaze.

Most of the volunteers and forestry crews were invisible in the dense brush from 400 feet up. The heavy undergrowth had proved impassable for vehicles. Equipment had to be lugged by hand.

The dozen separate smoke columns merged at 500 feet into a heavy yellow cloud which overhung the entire area.

Some 15 miles west of the Big Pocono area was another immense yellow cloud lying horizontally along the horizon.

It was the result of the two-day-old forest fire burning west of Blakeslee Corners, which has already consumed an estimated area five miles wide by 13 miles long. In the Big Pocono blaze, the progress of the fire slowed after the wind died down at dark.

The affected section is regarded as "unprotected land." No known cabins or summer bungalows are located there. The fire's spread, however, threatened to engulf other sections and was still moving toward Tannersville.

Today's developments hinge on the weather. High wind could drive the flames with heightened ferocity. Rain, or a windless day would probably knock the fire out or give firefighters enough of a start to beat the blaze.

It was not expected that Tannersville was under any real threat because of the number of roads between the village and the line of the fire. Foresters, however, said that fires were unpredictable until the last ember was extinguished.

Fire Burns Mattress At Kohl House

A burning mattress summoned Stroudsburg firemen at 2:25 a. m. yesterday to the house at the rear of the Colonial Diner on Main St. and resulted in minor damage, mostly caused by water.

Originating on the top floor of the three-story structure, Fire Chief Robert Melick said the fire "probably was started by a lighted cigarette." Firemen threw the burning mattress to the courtyard below where the fire was extinguished.

Carl D. Kohl, owner of the building, said he could not estimate the damage at present. The room was occupied by an employee, Kohl said.

When Ike Comes Ho...

Editors of the nation's daily newspapers, meeting in Washington, reported that General Eisenhower is the presidential candidate most likely to win in November.

If—of course—he gets the Republican nomination.

What the editors are saying is that, in their judgment, General Eisenhower, as a man, is the favorite of most American voters.

But that popularity must be translated into delegates at the Republican convention. General Eisenhower, quite obviously, will be up against a smooth-working, experienced political machine at the convention.

That obstacle can be overcome only by unmistakable evidence of the public sentiment behind him—evidence that cannot be denied.

The general's best hope of crystallizing that public sentiment is to speak out—when he comes home in June—on the basic issues facing the country.

Public admiration for his ability and integrity is apparent. His personal appearance as an active candidate, can do more than any other effort to convert that admiration into Eisenhower delegates at the July convention.

Roses And Relief

The State Department of Public Assistance has reported that only 86 out of every 1000 Pennsylvanians over 65 years of age are on relief.

The word "only" is used because, in the vast majority of states, the proportion is much higher. Several southern states have roughly half their over-65 population on the dole. Just six states—New York, Virginia, Pennsylvania,

Maryland, Delaware and New Jersey—have less than 100.

Those statistics seem to indicate that oldsters are better off in industrial states. Two reasons suggest themselves: There are more jobs that the elderly can perform, and high earnings let workers save something toward retirement.

Moonlight and roses and whispering palms have their attractions, but the statistics are somewhat discouraging. In Louisiana, 674 out of every 1000 persons over 65 are on relief. In California the number is 307, and in Florida 289.

Political Third-Degree

Down in Florida, a young candidate for governor has been putting on radio "talkathons." In Tampa he was on the air for 25½ hours, answering questions 'phoned in by listeners.

He estimates that he answered 5000 questions about his personal life, political views and ideas on important issues. Observers said he answered all questions frankly, without quibbling.

It might be beneficial if other candidates for public office, not quite so frank, could be induced to put on such an act. When weariness overtook them, they might not have the energy to give involved and meaningless answers.

The old New York Sun was the first newspaper to be sold on the streets in the United States.

Bones and teeth contain 99 per cent of the calcium in the human body.

Crosby On

The FBI

Men do get excited on these television panel

programs and say more than they planned to.

So it seems that

John Crosby,

the radio and television expert of the New York Herald Tribune, got all excited on the "Author Meets

The Critics" program, which these days booms with controversial inaptitudes.

His desire was to denounce his opponent, Ted Kirkpatrick of "Counterattack" and "Red

Channels," which is anyone's privilege. Instead Crosby walloped the FBI, to which service Kirkpatrick belonged. Crosby has since apologized for so heated and careless a remark as this:

"Everybody was in the FBI

during the war. It was a way of getting out of the army. We have copy boys on our paper

who were in the FBI during the war."

On September 6, 1939, to the FBI's duties in the criminal field was added the responsibility of guarding the internal security of the nation. This required a rapid build-up of its forces, which could not be done with a lowering of qualifications, as that would defeat itself.

No man could serve in the FBI who had not been especially trained. Once appointed, the new agents were sent to the FBI

Academy, located on the Marine base at Quantico, Virginia. Here they were given an intensive course of instructions. Classes were from nine in the morning until nine at night. Already qualified as lawyers or accountants or college graduates with specialized skills, they were trained as expert investigators and they qualified as experts in firearms

—the Thompson sub-machine-gun, the rifle, the shotgun and the pistol. A daily class in athletic training kept them in trim.

SHOPPER

A telephone call from Mrs. Robert Miller, administrative officer of the Monroe County unit, American Cancer Society, informs me that members of the Monroe County Garden Club will do their part in behalf of the society's present campaign for funds, by selling potted plants all day Friday here in Wyckoff's.

The women will not only sell plants, but will be happy to accept contributions to the cancer crusade which, as you and I know, is a truly worthy cause. Whether or not we wish to face it, we must admit that the threat of cancer confronts us all. We have, however, the hope-inspiring knowledge that in these days of scientific progress, miracles are being worked daily. Eventually man may be master of his destiny, insofar as this particular scourge is concerned. But while nations can be conquered with bombs... critics won't over with tolerance... and children awayed by love, disease can be fought only by research. And that is not possible unless there is a backlog of money. Lots of it.

There are many ways in which to give. This Wednesday night between the hours of seven and eight, you are asked to place a light in your window as the signal that you are interested in participating in the crusade against cancer. A light in the window is a time honored American custom: a bright, warm reminder of pioneer days when home was often just one tiny spot of civilization in the wilds of an unexpected land. Today a light in the window has become the symbol of Americans standing shoulder to shoulder, a determined army, pledged to do all in their power to alleviate suffering and despair. As for your donation... it needn't be large. If everyone gave even a little, just think what a miracle we could buy. The bigger the better, of course... but even the small gift will be welcome and useful.

If you can, give Wednesday! Then, on Friday, come in to Wyckoff's and see the plant booth. If you like flowers or fern in your window, buy one or two. A plant that will plant hope in human hearts! All contributors to the cause through the display in Wyckoff's will receive a flower—the gift of a local florist. We like the whole idea... it sounds so bright and gay... so sort of heaven blessed!

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Alice Through the Looking Glass had nothing on me. Remember how she had to run like anything to stay in the same place? Well, the social desk typewriter got hot from the social stories tapping out of it last night, and there's still more on the copy hook than got in the paper.

But whatever your social obligations are today, remember your primary one is at the polls, and no pun intended. No sense going in for culture unless you live in an atmosphere where culture can thrive. No sense working for better schools unless you vote to support them—well, anyway, unless you vote first you've no business complaining about conditions.

Nobody was complaining about anything at the DAR luncheon except that they'd eaten so much of Martha Hood's delicious food that they could scarcely stay awake for the program. Everything had a tantalizing difference in taste that had everybody savoring and trying to identify just what was different.

Nobody was complaining about the junior band at the Stroudsburg PTA last night either, with a very vociferous claque really sending the youngsters home with visions of Carnegie Hall in their dreams.

As for me, I'll dream that on Wednesday they'll turn the whole paper over to social news and we'll get everything in and start fresh for Thursday—which from the looks of things will fill several volumes all by itself.

Tax Measure Applies To School Buses

The effect of the State's revised eight-mill transportation tax on school bus contractors was clarified at a meeting at Clearview school yesterday of contractors in this area, school officials and a State representative.

County Superintendent of Schools John C. Litts presided and introduced W. I. Bevan, an adviser from the State Bureau of School Administration in charge of transportation.

The meeting was called in response to persistent inquiries from district school directors and bus contractors on the manner in which the amendment to Pamphlet Law 694, the "Gross Receipts Tax Act", passed by the 1951 legislature, affected local bus systems.

The law, as interpreted by Bevan, definitely does apply to school bus operations.

In addition to drivers, district school directors, Litts and Bevan, the County School Board was also in attendance.

Among matters discussed by Bevan other than the tax law, were contracts, overloading, the extension of transportation routes for school buses, the authority of the driver while operating the school bus and a further clarification of the law concerning stoppage of traffic while loading and unloading such buses.

Robert Christenberry, colorful figure entrusted with the task of cleaning up the fight game in New York City and state, may very well be the featured speaker at the Spring banquet of the Stroudsburg High Varsity "S" Club next month, at the Penn-Stroud Hotel. However, no official acceptance of the invitation tendered him has been received from the gentleman who calls Shawnee-on-Delaware home just as often as his pressing duties in the big city allow.

Even though no official word has been received from Christenberry, unofficial reports making the rounds indicate that the Empire State boxing czar will be on hand to address the large group scheduled to attend the banquet. Bob is well known in this area, as a hotel man, a golfer and a good guy. His many friends from Monroe County are pulling for him to make good in his attempt to rid the ring sport of the scum that has dominated it for years.

Harry Schaeffer was in the bull pen yesterday for the first time since the American League season got under way, as the New York Yankees took the measure of the Philadelphia A's, 5-1. The lanky hurler reported in a telephone conversation last night that he felt good, his arm was in the best condition it has been all Spring and that his control has been good in several batting practice mound jobs. However, up to an early hour last night the popular southpaw hadn't been told when his first mound appearance would take place.

Speaking of Schaeffer brings to mind the fact that Harry will appear on Joe Whalen's Sports Roundup tomorrow at 6:30 p. m., over WVPO, by way of a wire recording. The recording was made prior to last Saturday's contest at the Stadium, between the Yankees and Washington Senators. Howard Atwell also takes part in the interview in the Yankee dugout, following Schaeffer's batting practice mound chore. Manager Casey Stengel and pitchers Joe Ostrowski and Bob Kuzava add station breaks to the interview, adding further major league background.

Harry Obitz, head pro at Shawnee Country Club, is back at his familiar post, following an adventurous ride through the midwest flood. According to reports Harry was forced to try four bridges before he could cross the raging Mississippi River, on his way from Nebraska. Bob Minch and John Bove are also back for another season at Shawnee, while the familiar features of "Rocky" Coco will also be back at the well known club this year. Minch recently arrived at his summer post after traveling from California.

Catasauqua High School's Lehigh Valley League championship basketball team, the same one that advanced so far in the state playoffs, is scheduled for a vacation in Miami in the very near future. This is a season that fans of Catasauqua will never forget, not to mention the players. Speaking of Caty brings to mind the fact that Ken Loeffler, LaSalle coach, was an outstanding hit as a speaker at a banquet for the Rough Riders recently. Reports indicate that the colorful cage mentor has a million stories. Loeffler is on the agenda of the ninth annual Eastern Pennsylvania Scholastic Coaches Association clinic to be held at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College in June.

Marty Baldwin, executive vice president of the Scranton Miners, in the Eastern League, attended an important conference in Scranton yesterday, with Owner Lou Baselle and Manager Zach Taylor. Baldwin is even higher in his regard for Taylor now than he was last week, and his praise at that time was sky-high. Scranton opens its home portion of the Eastern League season Thursday night, at Dunmore Stadium.

Vernon "Lefty" Gomez will be on hand at Reading when Scranton opens there tomorrow, and the former Yankee great will also be on hand at Dunmore Stadium Thursday. Gomez is also listed as one of four speakers at the Hotel Casey on Saturday, at a banquet in honor of the Miners. Others listed as guest speakers are "Rabbit" Maranville, former great shortstop with the Boston Braves; Tommy Richardson, president of the Eastern League, and Joe Reardon, high Philadelphia Phillies' official.

Stroudsburg High requested that Friday's baseball game at Catasauqua be advanced to Thursday, because of "Visitation Day" at Stroudsburg High. Catty approved the request and the contest will be played Thursday afternoon, with Alden "Red" Fetherman scheduled to make his second mound appearance of the infant campaign. Billy Long reported doing fine as manager at Tarboro, N. C., of the Coastal Plain League, but reports indicate that the popular pilot is in need of an experienced catcher.

Boudreau Chased As Senators Take Measure Of Red Sox, 3-2

Boston (AP)—Julio Moreno's clutch pitching and pinchhitter Sam Mele's long fly to center with the bases loaded in the eighth gave the Washington Senators a 3-2 win over the Boston Red Sox yesterday at Fenway Park.

Moreno is the only pitcher to defeat the Sox this year and this was his second one-run victory as he defeated them in Washington last week, 4-3, in 11 innings. A rubarb developed in the Sox fifth over a decision by Umpire Joe Paparella that resulted in Manager Lou Boudreau being ejected from the game for the first time as a Red Sox pilot.

The Sox opened the inning with Dom DiMaggio getting hit by a pitch and Jim Piersall singled him to second. Don Lenhardt scored DiMaggio with a

Cubs Down Pirates, 7-1

Pittsburgh (AP)—Phil Cavaretta's Chicago Cubs spoiled rookie Ronnie Kline's major league debut last night by whipping the Bucs 7 to 1 in the season's first night game at Forbes Field.

Good Pitching

Southpaw Paul Minner went the distance for the Cubs to chalk up his first victory of the 1952 campaign. He allowed only three hits, one of them Jack Merson's home run in the fifth inning. It was Merson's second of the year.

Catcher Eddie Fitzgerald and first baseman George Metkovich got the only other hits of the big lefty, both singles.

The Cubs sent Kline to the showers in the second after Minner doubled and tallied on Ramazotti's single to left. Forrest Main relieved Kline at this point. He allowed three more hits and two runs.

But Main settled down after this and blanked the Cubs for the next four frames. He was lifted for a pinchhitter in the sixth.

The Cubs collected 11 hits off four Pirate pitchers. Jim Waugh relieved Main in the seventh and veteran Ted Wilks pitched the ninth. A crowd of 12,378 saw the contest.

Marciano Stops Foo

Providence, R. I. (AP)—"Rocky" Marciano, 189 1/2, scored a sensational second round knockout over Gino Buonvino, 196 1/2, of Italy, in their scheduled 10-round fight last night in the Auditorium.

The knockout came at 1:35 of the second round.

Punching Sharply

Marciano, punching sharply, scored his 40th straight victory, and his 33rd knockout for his most impressive victory since his defeat of Joe Louis.

Buonvino made a real fight of the match, hurting Marciano with a powerful right cross. That came midway in the first round when the Brockton battler walked into the punch. He shook off the effects quickly and uncorked an attack of his own.

Tom Fool Scratched From Derby

New York (AP)—Three of the East's Kentucky Derby candidates, including Tom Fool, the two-year-old champion of 1951, were declared out of the May 3 three-year-old classic yesterday because of illness or injuries.

Tom Fool, winner of $155,910 for owner Jack Whitney last year, developed a cough after finishing second to Master Fiddle in the Wood Memorial at Jamaica last Saturday. Trainer John Garver immediately decided the colt was "too valuable" to risk in the Derby.

At the same time, Starmount Stable's Primate and Max Kahlbaum's Jampol also were declared out of the Derby because of injuries suffered in the running of the Wood. Alabama-owned Al-ladler, from the Harborvale Stable, also was withdrawn from the Derby yesterday because of an injury suffered in a prep race at Keeneland.

Air Trip, Master Fiddle, surprise winner of the Wood for the Myhelyn Stable of Nick Martini and Meyer Mazor, will be shipped to Louisville by air Thursday. Traveling with him will be Count Flame, owned by Jack Amiel, whose Count Turf won the Derby last year. Both are trained by Sol Rutchick.

Alfred Vanderbilt's unpredictable Cousin, a disappointing eighth in the Wood, will be shipped to Louisville by train today. He will be accompanied by Bayard Sharp's Hannibal, winner of the first Experimental Handicap this spring.

At Laurel, Md., Dion K. Kerr, Jr., trainer of Mrs. Marion du-

Pont's Scott's Pintor, said that colt had earned a Derby trip by finishing third in the Wood. He will be shipped late this week. Pintor faded at the finish after battling Tom Fool into the stretch in Saturday's mile and one eighth race.

White Oak Stable's Blue Man, regarded as one of the East's best Derby prospects after winning the Experimental Handicap number two, was not named for the Kentucky and was on his way to Kentucky before that race was run.

Philadelphia, (AP)—James P. Clark, president of the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League, yesterday named a four-man committee to conduct the affairs of the team for one year.

Recovering

Clark, who is head of a syndicate of 100 Philadelphiaians which purchased the Eagles three years ago, is recuperating from a recent illness. He will remain as president but will take no active part in the club's operation for 1952.

Named by Clark to carry on were Frank L. McNamee, club treasurer; Paul C. Lewis, secretary; Vincent A. McNally, general manager, and Joseph A. Donoghue, business manager.

Mize To Hang Up Spikes At Finish Of Present Campaign

New York (AP)—Georgia-born John Mize, terror of major league pitchers for nearly two decades, said between champs of tobacco yesterday that this is his last season for lugging the big willow to the plate.

"I decided to play this one out and then quit," the thick-chested first baseman of the New York Yankees said. "Yes, sir, regardless of what kind of season I have, this is the last one."

"I'm tired of all this traveling. That bat feels heavier every time I walk up there to hit. I'm tired of reading in the papers every time I see my name mentioned: 'Old man Mize. Old man Mize.'"

The 225-pound slugger, traded to the Yankees by the New York Giants in August, 1949, hit the Yankee Stadium batting cage broadside with an unerring spurt of his brown plug and added: "I'll be 40 by the time another season rolls around. I figure I've had it."

"I've bought into a little business down in Deland, Fla.—the liquor package business. I've also bought a 12-acre place with two fishing lakes in my back yard and some nice orange groves."

"If I don't stay in baseball in some other kind of a job I figure I'll just roll around home—work three days a week and loaf four."

The big southerner with the ham-like arms said one of his reasons for playing this year is to attain two goals: surpass Joe DiMaggio's all-time home run total and get his 2,000th hit.

Big Jawn has 351 homers, needs only 11 more to beat the 361 output of DiMaggio, who retired after last season. Through Sunday's game he had 1,954 hits, needing only 46 more for his goal.

"But it's getting tougher as I go along," Mize added.

Pocono Mountains League Ready To Open 1952 Season

Bartonsville—Plans were complete for the opening of the Pocono Mountains League at a regular monthly meeting of the diamond circuit here at the Bartonsville Hotel last night. Both the 1952 schedule and by-laws were adopted.

A total of 36 people, including league officers and representatives of all ten teams in the circuit, were in attendance at the meeting. Clinton Getz, president, was in charge of the meeting.

Each team turned in temporary rosters and presented entrance fees. Each club in turn learned that it was officially covered by insurance.

Umpires

James Schlegel, Nazareth, was announced as the assigner of umpires for the league, a position that he also holds in the Blue Mountain League.

The temporary rosters, of 25 players, will remain in force until Monday, June 30, when permanent rosters of 20 players take over.

Action in the 1952 season is slated to open on Sunday, May 11, and John Wernet, secretary of the league, reports all ten clubs ready.

The clubs entered are Redders, Tannersville, Bushkill, Lake Harmony, West End A. C., Kunkletown, Saylorsburg, Tobyhanna, Anamokim, Barrett.

Action in the circuit will take place every Sunday and on Summer holidays.

Bushkill is returning after a year's absence from the league. Bill and Mary Cassati, owners of Bartonsville Hotel, served a buffet luncheon to all those in attendance.

Rumors Denied

Camp Pickett, Va. (AP)—A military spokesman yesterday denied rumors that Don Newcombe, Brooklyn's 20-game winning pitcher ace last season, would be given an imminent medical discharge.

Bascom Gains Prestige

St. Louis (AP)—Walloping Wesley Bascom, East St. Louis Negro, regained some heavyweight prestige last night with a fifth-round knockout of Larry Watson of Omaha.

Raschi Hurls Yankees To Nod Over A's

New York (AP)—Vic Raschi continued his mastery over his Philadelphia cousins yesterday, pitching the New York Yankees to a 5-1 victory over the Athletics.

The powerful righthander didn't have one of his good days and wasn't even there at the finish, but he stayed around long enough to register his eighth straight and his twenty-second lifetime victory over the A's against only two setbacks. Philadelphia hasn't beaten him since August 13, 1950.

Beat Jinx

The Yankees were up against a jinx of their own in Bobby Shantz. The little lefthander, who had whipped the Yankees in his last three starts against them in 1951 and had beaten them in his only previous start against them this season, hurled well enough to win most games. His defense, however, fell apart behind him as two glaring errors handed the Yankees three unearned runs.

Shantz permitted the Yanks only five hits in the six innings he worked before bowing out for a pinch hitter, but one of them was Mickey Mantle's first homer of the campaign in the first inning.

The A's left ten runners stranded and hit into four double plays. Their only run came in the second, stole second and scored on inning when Gus Zernial when Ferris Fain singled for his first hit in 22 times at bat this season.

Giants Roll Over Phillies

Philadelphia, (AP)—The New York Giants unlocked an extra-base hit barrage that included a pair of home runs and three triples last night as they blasted four Philadelphia Phillies' pitchers for a 10-4 victory before 14,609 fans at Shibe Park.

Don Mueller, with three hits including a triple and his first home run of the season, and Bobby Thomson with a two run homer led the assault on starting pitcher Howard Fox and his three successors, Lou Possehl, Steve Ridzik and Bob Miller.

Big Guns

Mueller batted home four runs, while Thomson drove home two with his first inning homer, his first since his dramatic four-bagger won the 1951 National League flag for the Giants in the last inning of the deciding playoff game against the Brooklyn Dodgers last October.

Henry Thompson and Willie Mays, fleet Negro outfielders, each bagged a pair of hits and drove home a pair of runs to help back up the eight hit pitching of righthander Jim Hearn and his late inning relief, southpaw Dave Koslo. New York ...304 020 010—10 12 2

Davey In Middle Of Two Fights

Chicago (AP)—The Illinois State Athletic Commission yesterday ruled that welterweight "Chuck" Davey's Chicago Stadium bout with Chico Vejar May 7 had precedence over Davey's scheduled match with Carmen Basilio at Syracuse Thursday night.

Gashes

Davey, who suffered two eye gashes in training last week, was warned by the New York State Athletic Commission last weekend he must fight in Syracuse Thursday night or be suspended. Davey's manager said he will be unable to fight Thursday night.

The Illinois commission wrestled with Davey's contractual problem for nearly four hours at a regular meeting. Illinois and New York recently signed a reciprocal agreement to concur in suspensions.

PGA Figure Resigns

Chicago (AP)—Frank R. Caywood of Kansas City yesterday resigned as tournament supervisor of the Professional Golfers Association and was replaced by Harvey Reynor, of Modesto, Calif. Reynor, 40, has been scorer for the touring professionals since 1951.

Steele To Hurl Against Hellertown

East Stroudsburg High School opens its quest for a Lehigh-Northampton League baseball title today, when the Cavaliers invade the home ball yard of Hellertown High, at 4 p.m. It will be the second contest of the season for the Eastburg contingent, but the first against circuit opposition.

Ray Steele will open on the mound for the Cavaliers and the lanky right hander is entrusted with the job of getting the purple and white color bearers off to a flying start in the diamond wars.

Steele the target of several major league scouts, will have Leon Alberts as his battery mate.

The infield will feature Harold White at shortstop in the absence of Paul "Candy" Miller, while John "Juice" Arns handles first base and Jack Sommers and Don France occupy their usual second and third base positions respectively.

Dick Transue or Harold Litts will open in left; Marlin "Ducky" Martz, center, and George Litts in the right field pastures.

Hellertown, an annual baseball power in the Lehigh-Northampton League, will provide stiff opposition for the Cavaliers in the latter's first circuit outing.

Coach Jack Kist may make a switch or two in batting order. In case Steele should falter along the nine-inning round, Joe Antonucci will handle the pitching relief duties.

East Stroudsburg plays home on Friday, against a highly regarded Parkland club.

Bangor Meets Belvidere

Belvidere, N. J.—Bangor High school's baseball team will provide the opposition for Belvidere High here today, on the latter's home field. The opening pitch is scheduled to take place at 4 p.m.

It will be the first of two games to be played between these two teams this season. The second clash is listed for Bangor on Tuesday, May 27. It is the final contest on Bangor's schedule.

Pitchers

Coach Dave Thomas will probably send Rodney Taylor to the hill as his starting pitcher, although the starting honor may also go to either Sherwood

Rolfe Believes Base Hits Key To Detroit's Fight To Escape Present Position In Cellar

Chicago, (AP)—You'll get a straight-shooting answer from Manager "Red" Rolfe if you ask what's wrong with the Detroit Tigers—only major league team that hasn't won a game this season.

"Red" is a little sensitive about the plight of his club. After all, Detroit is the only team in the majors that's never finished in the cellar. He doesn't want to spoil that mark.

Rolfe certainly doesn't think his club will wind up in the cellar—"absolutely not."

He's got another, more immediate worry. His Tigers are headed toward a new record, the kind of record you try to avoid.

The Tigers lost their first seven games, three to the St. Louis Browns and four to the Cleveland Indians, and are now only six defeats short of tying the record for most consecutive opening-season losses.

Joint Record
The Tigers of 1920 and the Washington Senators of 1904 jointly hold the record of 13.

"Red" pin-points his troubles thus: "We need some long-ball hitting from our infield."

And then "Red" amends it: "We need some long-ball hitting—period."

The Tigers have rapped only one extra base hit to their foes' 20. Percentage-wise the club is hitting almost as well as opponents. But you can't win on singles. "Red" keeps stressing. The Tigers' long-term problem is its lack of infield power—and it's not likely to be solved unless a trade is made or "Red" experiments drastically.

"Our immediate problem is to get outfielder Vic Wertz and third baseman George Kell hitting the way they should," said "Red," who may switch Wertz to first base to help the infield headache.

Wertz, whose 27 homers led the club last season, has only two hits—a homer and a double—in 25 trips. Kell, annually a contender for the batting title, is hitting only .192.

Sedgman Wins Over Drobny In Rome

Rome (AP)—Australia's Frank Sedgman, displaying his best form since he led his country to victory in the Davis Cup challenge round, defeated Jaroslav Drobny of Egypt, 7-5, 6-3, 1-6, 6-4, yesterday in the finals of Italy's "Little Wimbledon" Tournament.

The match had been regarded by experts here as a preview of the coming world championship Wimbledon tourney in England. It served to prove once again that the 24-year-old Australian ace has Drobny's number. Only eight days ago he defeated the expatriate Czech in the Monte Carlo Tournament.

Doubles Victory

Later Sedgman and Drobny teamed up to defeat Italy's Gianni Cuculli and Marcello Del Bello for the doubles crown, 3-6, 7-5, 3-6, 6-3, 6-2.

In the mixed doubles final, Arvilla McGuire of Piedmont, Calif., and Kurt Nielsen of Denmark defeated Josefa Di Riba, Spain, and Eugenio Migone, Italy, 4-6, 6-3, 6-3.

Local Entry Leads Field

Auburn, Pa. — Hassler's Little Jim, owned by Marvin Hassler, 620 Wicaz Ave., Stroudsburg, won top honors in the 13th class of Snyder's Memorial Beagle Field Trial here at Stein's Hollow Beagle Club on Saturday. The winning entry was rewarded with a trophy.

There were 68 entries in the field.

Places

Second place went to Monarch Lady, owned by Morrison Orr, Piqua, O. Third place went to White Art Ringette, property of "Bud" Scherer, Reading, O'Donnell's Sarah, property of Ray O'Donnell, Reading, placed fourth. Reserve laurels went to Phoebe of Birch Creek, belonging to Wilbur Miller, Summit Hill, Pa.

Judges for the event were Joseph Orlovsky, Pottsville, and William Fisher, Wilmington, Del.

Coleman Becomes Father Of Son

New York, (AP)—Jerry Coleman, second baseman of the New York Yankees, became the father of a boy yesterday morning.

The youngster, who weighed seven pounds, seven ounces, was born to Mrs. Louise Coleman in San Francisco. The couple have one other child, Diane, two.

Departs

Coleman leaves here April 30, after playing his last game for the world champions before reporting to the U.S. Marines for duty as a pilot. He has been ordered to service at Los Alamos Air Base May 2.

Barrett Lists Diamond Slate

League Games

There are five league games on the agenda, three to be played on the Barrett field and two on foreign soil.

All of Barrett's home games get under way at 3 p. m.

Schedule follows:
April 24—Coolbaugh... Home
May 2—Christiansburg... Away
May 6—Greene-Dreher-Sterling... Home

Saddler Takes Title Into Army

New York (AP)—Featherweight boxing champion Sandy Saddler was inducted into the Army yesterday and his title went with him for a two-year stay.

The lanky, 25-year-old New York Negro became the first boxing champion to enter the services since the Korean conflict. And following the precedent set in World War Two, the NBA immediately announced that Saddler's title will be held for him until he returns from the Army.

No Comment

Bob Christenberry, chairman of the New York Athletic Commission, was out of town yesterday and not available for a ruling, but he is expected to keep in step with the NBA on this one. The New York Commission also froze the titles of all servicemen in the last war.

Stroudsburg High Band To Give Concert

Thursday at 8:15 p.m. the Stroudsburg High School Band will present its annual spring concert, under the direction of John Pyle.

Selections on the program will range from the currently popular Leroy Anderson novelty tune "The Syncopated Clock" to John Philip Sousa's rousing march tune "King Cotton."

A medley of Hungarian dances will provide a continental flavor for the middle portion of the program with a second Anderson tune "Sleigh Ride" giving the concert a definitely American touch.

George Gershwin, America's foremost concert jazz composer, will be represented on the bill by a series of his popular tunes from well-known Broadway musicals. Peter DeRose and Mitchell Parish are the composers of "Deep Purple," a perennially popular standard.

Also included in the program will be two overtures by Yoder—"The Midnight Sun" and "Mountain Majesty" and three marches by Sousa.

As its closing number for this year's concert the Stroudsburg instrumental and vocal departments unite in a vocal-band version of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic"—marking the first time the chorus and band have appeared together in public performance.

The school's 55-piece band and 75-voice chorus will be combined in the staging of the final number.

Groups Visit County Home

The Junior Legion and the Singing Group of the Salvation Army paid a visit to the County Home with belated Easter sunshine baskets. The young people also presented their Easter program.

A program of songs and recitations were given by the children of the Junior Legion. Recitations were by Florence, James, Thomas, Jack and David Rode, Michael and Gloria Jean Reinheimer, Charlotte Van Aiken, Alberta Sargent, Mary Lou Ludwig and Harriet Smith. Songs were sung by the entire group, and there was a duet by Betty Diehl and Bertha Kile.

Tulsa Pianist To Play New Composition By Tom Waring

A new Tom Waring composition will be included in the program of the University of Tulsa Chorus concert which will be presented at the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College auditorium Tuesday night, May 6. This work, entitled "Till Walt My Love," is a suite of four waltzes for piano and male voices.

It had its premiere performance last Friday in Bethlehem, Pa., by the chorus of Lehigh University.

The piano soloist for the Stroudsburg presentation by the Tulsa singers will be Miss Elvina Truman. (No—no relation). Miss Truman's first professional achievement was the winning of the Patrick Hayes award in a Washington, D. C. competition. Since that event she has appeared in concerts, alone and with leading symphonic groups, in many mid-west and western cities. Top recognition came in a concerto performance with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra. She is now a scholarship student at the University of Tulsa.

In addition to the new Waring

Former Hitler Youth Helps Pastor Conduct Jail Service

Assisting Rev. William F. Wunder, of East Stroudsburg Grace Lutheran Church, at services at the county jail Sunday was a former member of Germany's Hitler Youth.

He was Lothar Schneider, 23, former Cologne resident now living with his mother, Mrs. Meta Schneider, at 102 Analomink St., East Stroudsburg.

Schneider and his mother arrived in the States last October as DPs, under the sponsorship of an uncle, Carl Schmidt, Minisink Hills.

The young man, a skilled tool and die maker, is now employed as a machinist at the Art Metal plant in East Stroudsburg. He is repaying his uncle the money advanced for passage last year.

Active in the Lutheran church, the youth was asked by Rev. Wunder to go along for the jail services and play the accordion.

He played the hymns for the 10 prisoners.

A day or so ago, the former member of the Hitler Youth got a letter: Selective Service forms for possible service in the U. S. Armed Forces.
